ELOQUENT BURKE

FIRST SPEECH OF CAMPAIGN IS HEARD.

LARGE AUDIENCE OF VOTERS

HEARD ONE OF GREATEST POLITICAL SPEECHES.

A STRONG PLEA FOR LIBERTY

LIBERAL APPLAUSE GIVEN THE GREAT ORATOR.

Hon. Frank B. Burke, of Indianapolis, last evening delivered the opening speech of the campaign against imperialism and government of the trusts and he was greeted by an audience that completely filled the lower floor of Saengerbund hall. Many stood in the rear of the room and a hundred or more sat in the gallery and listened attentively, although that portion of the building was almost suffocating. There were present farmers and workingmen, merchants and manufacturers, and all were captivated by the eloquence of the Hoosier who so ably pleaded freedom's cause. The warm weather had raised doubts in the minds of the campaign managers of the democratic party in Allen county, but long before the speech began Chairman Berghoff and Secretary Melching were wreathed in smiles and another leading democrat remarked that it was the most successful opening campaign meeting ever held in Fort Wayne. There was great interest displayed and time and again the big audience was carried away with Mr. Burke's eloquence and cheered to the echo his pleas for a government of the people, by the people and for the people. Hon. Allen Zollars was chairman of the meeting and introduced Mr. Burke in a few minutes' speech in which he outlined the battle that was being fought for the constitution and declaration of independence.

When he arose to speak Mr. Burke was given an ovation which probably encouraged him to one of the best efforts of his life. He said:

"When man emerged from the darkness of inexperience he saw the splendor of the universe. He saw the glory of the sun, moon and stars, the soil giving sustenance and support for his existence, and enabling him to propagate his species. He felt the tender season of summer and the rigor of winter. He noticed the harmony, the unity and sympathy of nature in repose, and stood terrified at it in action, and he asked, 'What caused all this?' From that time until the present it has been the practice of men to attribute all inexplicable things to an unknown, unseen, but appreciated power. He said that God was the creator, the first cause in nature.

"Then, after awhile, he saw another thing, called government. He saw a man sitting entrenched on a throne of power, exercising the prerogatives of life and death over his fellowmen. He studied this creature, and found he was the intellectual superior of few and the physical superior of none. And he asked, 'Where does this man, who came into the world as I did, get this power?' The man on the throne pointed upward and said, 'From God.'

"But men reasoned, discussed, thought, and gave the world the benefit of their conclusions in 1776 in this land of ours. They asserted and proclaimed that this theory of the derivation of power from God was a lie; that governments have no power save that which is conferred upon them by the people. Until this time no man in this country has been courageous enough to assail the declaration that governments derive their powers from the consent of the governed, until the year 1898."

He said there had always been a difference of opinion between philosophers and statesmen as to the ability of the people to exercise the proper vigilance, scrutiny and care necessary to promote justice and the security of personal rights. From the beginning of the government this difference had been manifested in the schools of Hamilton and Jefferson, but both statesmen admitted that whatever power government possessed came from the people and this fact had been declared in the declaration of independence. Not until 1898 had this doctrine been assailed. Since the American government had declared war upon the Filipinos, an alien nation fighting for liberty, such republican statesmen as Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Whitelaw Reid and William Dudley Foulke had traversed the country asserting that the declaration of independence did not mean what it said, and he quoted from a speech recently made by Mr. Foulke in which the republican orator had said that the declaration of independence had never been intended to be literally construed, but was only an ideal toward which this government would strive. They told the people that this government had other ends than those declared in the constitution; that it is the instrument of manifest destiny and the republican party was the trustee, under God, for the regeneration and civilization of the world. Mr. Burke ridiculed the idea that God would choose Hanna, McKinley and Beveridge as his trustees to regenerate and civilize the world. A locomotive would not run on a turnpike without destroying either itself or the road. A traction engine could not run on a railway track without soon becoming a wreck and obstructing the way. So it was with government. Divert it from the purposes for which it was organized and it was soon destroyed.

Mark Hanna had declared that the declaration of independence was an "academic illusion." There was a purpose in all this. An effort was being made to change our form of government and make it possible for the privileged few to maintain their control of the government, something they could not do should the power to govern be retained by the people. The republican speakers condemned the democrats because they did not approve of the McKinley tariff laws and the gold standard and offered that fact as a reason why it was impossible to have government by the consent of the governed. But the democratic party never denied the right of congress to make laws to govern the people under the constitution. Because the party did not believe in unjust legislation did not mean that the party opposes the enforcement of laws passed by congress. These arguments were offered by republican politicians to justify the administration's efforts to subjugate an alien nation. Where did the United States government get the power to go the auction blocks of degenerating monarchies and buy nations at $2 per head. Beveridge and Mark Hanna said: "We are the trustees of God." That was only a reiteration of the principles of the divine right of kings that our fathers shot from the country more than 100 years ago. Continuing, Mr. Burke said:

" 'Trustees under God!' My countrymen, I believ in God and in the divinity of Jesus Christ. If I did not I could love the man for his sympathy for the people and I could love the charity of the doctrine He asserts. But as I do believe in God, I reject the damnable and hypocritical pretense that He has selected Mark Hanna and Beveridge as His trustees."

The speaker then discussed the sudden and wonderful changes that a few days or a few months had made in the attitude of President McKinley on important questions, recalling that as late as 1895 he delivered a silver speech which had never been equalled by Bryan. He also recalled the message sent to congress only last December in which he declared the "plain duty" of the United States toward Porto Rico and a few weeks later Congressman Robinson and other representatives had seen the president using his influence to have a law passed providing for a twenty-five cent tariff while his "plain duty" message had advocated free trade.

Mr. Burke handled the trusts without gloves and condemned the Tammany ice trust as much as any of the others, calling attention to the fact, however, that it only affected New York, while the Standard Oil trust, the sugar trust, the steel trust and the other monsters held within their clutches the people of the country. The republicans would talk only of the ice trust and say never a word about the monsters that today throttled the government. Democracy was not warring on wealth. The Rockefellers, the Vanderbilts, the Mortons could keep all they had and go. He did not believe that the people should break one pane of glass in their cheapest windows nor take a chip from the stones of their great mansions, but he did believe that they should loosen their grip on the government. He ridiculed the charge that because democrats appealed for the liberty of the Filipinos they were assailing the flag and offered an illustration printed in a republican paper as evidence of the ridiculousness of the claim. A negro about to steal two pullets was caught in the act by the owner of the chickens and turning his back toward the owner he pulled up his coat and on his pantaloons was a small American flag. "Don't you dare fire on the American flag," called the negro. The republican paper printed this cartoon to show the idiocy of the argument that a citizen could not discuss the policy of the government without assailing the flag. Mr. Burke read extracts from letters written by Maurice Thompson, Mr. Denby and Will E. English, and he riddled their statements with arguments that aroused the intense enthusiasm of his hearers.

Mr. Burke did not blame the soldiers for the battles they were waging against the Filipinos. The soldiers of the world were under the strictest discipline and must obey orders. They did not even have the privilege of the criminal—an appeal to the courts. The German citizens now residents in America knew what a government of solders meant and they would November next enter a strong protest against militarism in the United States. He made an eloquent plea for the independence of the Filipinos and asserted that the republicans told only the truth when they said that Mr. Bryan would make them free should he be elected. When the speaker referred to the struggling Boers in South Africa and how they, too, would welcome the success of the democratic party there were more rousing cheers from the audience.

In closing, Mr. Burke said:

"The republican orators have a great deal to say about the flag. My friends, when you see a republican during the campaign with a flag in his coat lapel, ask him what flag it is. Ask him whether it is the flag that Abraham Lincoln unfurled over four million freemen, or the flag that McKinley unfurled over slavery in Sulu. Ask him whether it's the flag that Brown, Scott and Ripley followed into Canada, or the flag that Neely and Rathbone followed into Cuba; the flag that Washington unfurled to fight against taxation without representation, or the flag that Allen unfurled in Porto Rico. Which flag, Mr. Republican, are you marching under? If your flag stands for slavery in Sulu, we'll haul it down. If your flag stands for taxation without representation, we'll haul it down. If it stands for peculation and robbery in Cuba, we'll haul it down. We are for the principles the flag stands for before the flag itself. When it sings the same song in China, in Russia, in the Philippines, in England, that it sings here, then it is our flag; the heritage of free and independent people; our flag because it stands for the dignity of American manhood and the virtue of American womanhood.

"But if it has changed its story; if the words of 'the Star Spangled Banner' lie; if it is no longer to all the world the emblem of liberty; if it no longer is to float over a land that has neither subject nor slave, then we will take it from the hands of America's enemies; from the hands of those who have befouled it with the stench of slavery and robbery, and on the 6th of next November we will wash it with our votes, and in a spirit of earnestness and patriotism, unfurl it anew as the emblem of liberty to all men and all nations, wherever it floats; a testimony of man's ability to govern himself. Then it will be the flag of America.

"We have now to take our choice—the republic of imperialism, or the republic of Bryan; the republic that tarottles liberty or the republic that shakes thrones and crumbles aristocracy by its silent example, and carries light to those that sit in darkness. We must choose between them. On one side is empire and slavery, on the other justice and freedom. One is led by the apostle of war, and the other by the apostle of peace."

Mr. Burke's close was highly dramatic and the intenseness and earnestness of his manner thrilled the audience, and when he finished the applause was terrific. Throughout his speech there were times when the audience seemed to hang on his words, and then, suddenly some brilliant period would electrify the crowd and the applause would shake the building.

After the address Mr. Burke received congratulations from scores of people and he remarked that it was one of the best meetings he had ever addressed. Mr. Burke was the guest of S. B. Fleming at the Wayne club for an hour after the speech and there had a pleasant talk with a few Fort Wayne democrats. He visited about the city this morning and at 4:50 this afternoon went to Auburn, where he speaks tonight.

BOOMERS IN TOWN

LAFAYETTE SENDS A MONSTER DELEGATION.

SEVERAL HUNDRED IN LINE

THEY CAME TO ADVERTISE THE STREET FAIR.

TRAVEL IN A SPECIAL TRAIN

LEFT THIS AFTERNOON TO VISIT OTHER CITIES.

The second annual business men's carnival at Lafayette will be held September 24 to 29, and something like 400 enthusiastic citizens of that city came to Fort Wayne today to tell the folks about it.

The Lafayette people travel in style, and they arrived in a special train of seven coaches over the Wabash shortly before noon today. It was a "boomers" train, and its sole object in touring the country is to advertise the coming carnival. They can hardly fail to make a good impression, to,, for the size of the delegation is notable and they made a parade of the principal streets while two bands vied with each other in producing exhilerating melody and energetic young men circulated literature advertising Lafayette's big event.

Heading the long procession as it swung down Calhoun street was a platoon of Fort Wayne police under Sergeant Stevens, acting as an escort to the visitors. Behind them came twenty of Lafayette's finest, in command of Superintendent Harrison, of that city, and along the line of march the Lafayette coppers executed some fancy evolutions that showed plainly the effect of careful drilling. Ohlsen's Lafayette band was next in line, and close behind them were the Uniformed Rank of Red Men from Lafayette, wearing the uniform of the Continental soldier. There were sixteen men in line in command of Capt. H. S. Saltzgaber.

By far the greater number of visitors marched in the delegation devoted to the private Lafayette citizen who was on hand simply to certify that the carnival is to be the greatest that has ever happened. There were more than 300 in this division, and midway down the ranks was the Street Railway band of Lafayette. At frequent intervals were stationed men carrying banners advertising the meeting, and as the procession moved along it secured the undivided attention of all who were in a point of vantage to see it. It moved down Calhoun street to Berry and east to the city hall, where most of the private citizens dropped out of ranks, and the bands combined and countermarched.

The police were the guests of Superintendent Gorsline and the local officers at dinner at the Wayne, the Red Men dined at the New Aveline, while the other visitors divided among the different hotels, every house receiving a share of the visitors.

The "boomers" left the city at 2 o'clock to continue their campaign of publicity, and before reaching home this evening will have paraded at Huntington, Wabash, Peru and Logansport.

WILL BE BIG DAY FOR LABOR

GRAND PARADE AND PICNIC NEXT MONDAY.

Trades Council Committee Completes Final Arrangements—Barbers to Lead Parade.

Next Monday will be a gala day for the organized workingmen of Fort Wayne. The Trades council Labor day committee held its final meeting last evening and completed arrangements for the celebration. It was decided to start the parade at 10:30 a. m. and the City band was selected to lead the procession, in which there will be four other bands. The committee then drew lots for places in the parade for the several labor organizations and the barbers were lucky enough to win first position and will follow the City band. The printers are next, and so on down the list. Unorganized workingmen are invited to participte in the parade, badges having been provided for them. Besides the parading workingmen there will be an industrial parade, in which nearly every business in the city has promised to have a decorated wagon. Altogether the parade promises to be equal to those of eight and ten years ago. After the parade there will be a grand picnic at Swinney park, continuing through the evening. Two bands will render music in the afternoon and two other bands in the evening. During the afternoon short addresses will be made by Hon. J. M. Robinson E. B. Hanna, Judge W. J. Vesey, John H. Aiken, Mr. Bohannon and others. There will also be some speeches at night. Late in the afternoon Mr. Williams, the Michigan aeronaut, will make a grand balloon ascension and parachute descent. There will be all kinds of refreshments, except liquor, served at the park, and sports galore, besides the excellent music to be rendered by Fort Wayne bands.

CENTURY'S CYCLE COMPLETE

MRS. MARY RANK HAS LIVED ONE HUNDRED YEARS.

St. Joe Township Woman Celebrated a Remarkable Anniversary on Wednesday.

Surrounded by children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren to the number of nearly fifty, Mrs. Mary Rank, of St. Joe township, celebrated a remarkable anniversary Wednesday—the one hundredth anniversary of her birth.

Two weeks ago The Sentinel noted the approach of this unusual event, and the pioneer home six miles north of this city was the scene of a most joyous gathering. None among the friends gathered there was in better spirits or entered more thoroughly into the enjoyment of the occasion than the venerable lady in whose honor it was held. At times, however, it was plain that her mind was dwelling in retrospect upon the days and scenes when the century was new.

Dinner was served beneath the orchard trees and soon after the meal was ended the venerable hostess retired for a brief afternoon nap. During the day many of the older citizens of St. Joe township called to offer congratulations. In response to the request of the younger people Mrs. Rank sang a number of the songs of her childhood days, and while her quavering voice finds it difficult to carry the air, she remembers the words of these songs almost perfectly.

Three children of the centennarian, Eli, Ezra and Miss Tamer Rank, were present at the celebration Wednesday, and among the others were Mr. and Mrs. McGrady, Miss Irene Laisure, Miss Anna Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Wambach and daughter Esther, Charles Rank, Frank Payne, J. W. Laisure, Miss Grace Mohl, Master Teddy Laisure, Miss Grace Payne, Master McKinley Payne, Mrs. Catherine Laisure, Dan C. Laisure, Miss Rose E. Kaylor, Mrs. Michael Houser, Miss Anna Gent, Mrs. Philip Wick, Mrs. Martha Duber, John Laisure, Mrs. Uriah Notestine, Mrs. Tillie McComb and children, Millie, Leona and Floyd, and Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Broom and daughters Jessie and Maud, and a number of others. Most of those mentioned are direct descendants of Mrs. Rank and several are relatives. Mr. Broom is a nephew and Mrs. Duber a niece. Both reside in this city.

MAY GO TO LAW FOR A MOTHER.

Laporte, Ind., Aug. 30.—Mrs. M. C. Cummins, a young woman of Miami county, this state, appealed to the state's attorney to bring action in the circuit court to establish her claim that Mrs. David Goss, of Union Mills, this county, is her mother. Mrs. Cummins says that until a year ago she had no reason to believe but that she was the daughter of a couple living at Peru, but after her marriage to Cummins it developed that she had been abandoned by her mother, who, under the name of Sheeley, had married David Goss, a wealthy farmer. Then began the year's search which solved the mystery. Mrs. Goss denies that she is the mother of Mrs. Cummins, and to establish the question of identity action will be begun in the circuit court.

VERDICT AGAINST PICKETING.

London, Aug. 30.—A verdict against picketing during strike was rendered today by Justice Farwell, of the high court of justice, who enjoined General Secretary Bell, of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, and Organizing Secretary Holmes from watching and besetting the Great Western railroad stations and approaches with the view of inducing non-unionists to refrain from taking the places of the Taff Vale railroad strikers.

Thus far in 1900 England has imported 12 per cent. less foreign grain than in 1899.

What Makes Home?

Home is made by the family. Without the love which comes with children there may be a house but never a home, in the best meaning of the word. Many a house which was only four walls and a roof has been made a home by the agency of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Nature sets her face against childlessness and "Favorite Prescription" works with nature to remove the obstacles to maternity.

"I had been a sufferer from uterine trouble for about three years, having two miscarriages in that time and the doctors that I consulted said I would have to go through an operation before I could give birth to children," writes Mrs. Blanche E. Evans, of Parsons, Luzerne Co., Pa., Box 42. "When about to give up in despair, I bought a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and after taking it felt better than I had for years. Felt improved before I had taken one-half bottle. After taking four and a half bottles I gave birth to a bright baby girl who is now four months old and has not had a day of sickness. She is as bright as can be. I cannot say too much in praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

A PUNGENT FOOD DRINK

With the Taste of Coffee.

"Perhaps no one has suffered more from the use of coffee or failed oftener in the attempt to leave it off, than I have. Although I never drank more than half a cup at a time, it even then gave me a sour stomach and a whole catalogue of misery. This kept up for a long period and time and again I have resolved that I positively would drink no more coffee, but alas, the rest of the family used it, and, like the reformed drunkard who smells whisky and falls again, when I smelled coffee I could not resist it.

"Finally we came to try Postum Food Coffee and my trouble was over at once. There I had my favorite beverage,—a crisp, dark brown, rich coffee, with a fine pungent coffee taste, and yet with no sour stomach or nervous troubles after it. On the contrary, I have gained gradually in strength and sturdy health. All who have spoken to me about Postum agree that we have found it so, that the directions for making must be followed, and it must be boiled at least fifteen minutes, or more, and it also requires the addition of good cream. We have tried boiling it a few minutes when in a special hurry, but found it insipid and unsatisfactory, whereas by proper boiling, it is dark and rich, with a delightful flavor.

"Dr. McMillan of Sunbeam, Ill., said he had used Postum and found it to be just as good as coffee, and more healthful. He is an M. D. of fine standing. Mr. David Strong and sister have left off coffee and are using Postum. They find it much more healthful. Rev. W. T. Campbell, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian Church, of this city, says: 'You may say anything good that you wish, about Postum Food Coffee and I will substantiate it.' He was a very great lover of coffee and yet found it very injurious to his health. He now drinks Postum three times a day and the old troubles have disappeared.

"I shrink from having my name appear in public. The statement I have given you is truthful, and I hope will aid some people to discover that coffee is the cause of their aches and ails, and they are in a way to get rid of their troubles by leaving off coffee and taking up Postum Food Coffee."

This lady lives at Monmouth, Ill., and her name can be given by letter, upon application to the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., makers of Postum, at Battle Creek, Mich.

Mothers Friend. What is it? Much has been said and written about it but the half has not been told. It is a remedy which if used by expectant mothers robs the ordeal through which they all have to pass of an incredible amount of suffering and makes her recovery more rapid.

"If a price can be placed on pain, "Mother's Friend" is worth its weight in gold as an alleviator. My wife suffered more in ten minutes with either of her other two children than she did altogether with her last, having previously used four bottles of "Mother's Friend." It is a blessing to any expectant mother, says a customer."

NEW GUINEA-MEXICAN GOLD MINES CORPORATION

MAJOR HOWARD, President.
FRED'K WILKINSON, Manager.

10 % MONTHLY DIVIDENDS

ON PRESENT ISSUE $250,000.
TO PROVIDE FOR INCREASED WORKING EXPENSES.

Blocks of stock in the above now being sold at $1 per share, full paid and non-assessable, paying an ordinary dividend of 5 per cent. per month and an interim bonus of 5 per cent. (The advance reports of the management justify the continuance of a total 10 per cent. per month until 1902, when the bonus only may cease for a few months to allow of further deep level developments.) Not less than $5 allotted. To avoid exchange remittances may be sent in dollar bills by mail. Stock re-purchased. Dividends on $100 stock and above that amount paid weekly if desired—holders of stock below $100 monthly. Dividends by vouchers, small amounts remitted in cash or bills. (Original investment pays over 500 per cent. per annum.)

The object of this issue is to immediately control an increased development fund, and in return to give the public a highly lucrative investment, combined with a level-priced legitimately rising stock, unaffected by broking or "change" manipulations. Part of the corporation's property is situated in the heart of the Indian's country on the boundary of Southern Mexico. Some of the workings date from the sixteenth century, and are held by private ownership under agreements with the corporation. Their resources have only been tapped by long patience and a special arrangement with the Indians. Provided there is no political disturbance of these regions and ample working capital for extensions, the supply of the precious metal should be perennial.

Applications, with remittances, names and addresses to the Treasurer, New Guinea Mexican Gold Mines Corporation, Fourth Floor, 68 Wall Street, New York. Applications will only be entertained strictly in accordance with priority of receipt.

HOLY WAR IN CHINA

KAISER'S EXHORTATION TO HIS TROOPS.

AT CONSECRATION OF FLAGS

GERMAN EMPEROR PREACHES A NEW CRUSADE.

CHINESE SET AT DEFIANCE

ALL THE RESTRAINTS OF THE LAWS OF NATIONS.

Berlin, Aug. 31.—The consecration of the colors of the troops destined for China took place yesterday in the presence of all the generals of the Berlin garrison and deputations from every regiment of the guards. The solemn act took place out in the immense glass-covered court of the arsenal. Army Chaplain Woelfing pronounced the blessing from an altar erected upon the steps of the large stairway leading into the memorial hall.

The emperor wore the full uniform of a Prussian general, with the sash and chain of the Order of the Black Eagle. He carried a marshal's baton covered with yellow velvet, profusely embroidered with black eagles.

SPEECH OF THE KAISER.

After reviewing the officers and men present, the emperor spoke as follows, pointing to the colors:

"The flaming cross which the German colors show since nearly 1,000 years means that their bearers go, as during the crusades, into a holy war, caused by an enemy who has not only broken the international law, but has trampled upon all the laws of humanity. The barbarism of the orient revolts against the culture and civilization of the occident, and it is now our duty to protect the right and to gain a victory for truth, faith, loyalty, education and morality.

"These colors, with the flaming cross, shall always call out to those fighting in their shadow what I have said before: 'Peoples of Europe, guard your most sacred possessions!'"

TO BE USED ON PARADE.

After the ceremony was over the colors were taken to the palace of Emperor William I., where they will remain in the historical color-room. On next Saturday the first company—the emperor's bodyguard—of the First regiment of the guards will carry them, led by the emperor himself, to the parade grounds at Templehof, where the great annual fall review of the guards is to take place. There the colors will be intrusted to deputations of the regiments for which they are destined.

The ridiculous attacks on Germany's Chinese policy by the Russian prince, Uehtomski, published in a New York paper, would receive no attention here if this princely editor of the St. Petersburg Viedomosti had not succeeded in creating the impression that he has intimate relations with the czar. The Berlin press attacks the prince bitterly and calls attention to the fact that he used false and erroneous reports some weeks ago to attack the murdered Baron Von Ketteler in a most brutal manner. The prince, the papers say, is ready to use every means, even the most questionable, to give vent to his intense hatred of everything German. He is, however, not worth taking seriously, it is asserted, as far as politics is concerned.

STEEL MEN IN CONFERENCE.

Pittsburg, Aug. 31.—A conference of vast importance to the iron and steel interests of the country began here today. The purpose of it is to reach an agreement on a tin plate scale for the ensuing year. Up until now the conferences between committees of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers and the American Tin Plate company have been without result, but the impression prevails that a satisfactory scale will be agreed on this time. Another conference of importance, at which it is thought a scale will be agreed upon, is fixed for September 4, at Detroit, between representatives of the Republic Iron and Steel company, American Steel Hoop company, Standard Chain company and the Amalgamated association. The committee upon the part of the association is composed of twenty members, eleven finishers and nine boiler men. The wage committee had been denied discretionary power, but the question has been submitted to the several lodges and the necessary power secured.

WORKED THE FARMERS.

Hicksville News: "Some smooth duck who had an eye to business and no guilty conscience went out to Scipio and Springfield last week and flooded the country with cheap eye glasses that he claimed came from the stock of Hart Bros., as they were going out of business. Of course the specks were frauds and the Hart Bros. have nothing to do with the matter. They are not going out of business and have no agents out whatever. It is the same old story of the sharper and people who are easily fooled. The glasses were sold for $3 a pair and can be bought for about 7 cents.

WILL RECOMMEND THEM.

Special Inspector Conger, of the postoffice department, who has made an inspection of the three additional rural free delivery routes which have been petitioned for in this county, left this morning for Indianapolis. While Mr. Conger would not make an unqualified statement to that effect, it is regarded as certain he will recommend the establishing of the routes at the earliest possible date. When this is done there will be six systems of rural mail delivery radiating from Fort Wayne.

TO BAR OUT THE COMBINES

NEW FEATURE OF STAR ROUTE CONTRACT LETTINGS.

Advertisements Will Require Bidders to Live on or Contiguous to Route Bid On.

Washington, Aug. 31.—The office of the second assistant postmaster general is preparing the usual annual advertisements, which will be issued about September 15 next, for the carriage of mails on star routes. This advertisement will be of unusual importance, as it is designed to check an alleged proposed combination of star route bidders and for the first time will require, as a guarantee of satisfactory performance of such, that every accepted bidder, whatever may be his residence at the time of bidding, must agree to live on or contiguous to the route and personally superintend the performance of service.

This general letting will occur in the New England states, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

It recently has come to the notice of the department that certain speculative bidders will seek to secure a number of routes by inducing some local attorney or other person in each of the counties to allow the use of his name as a bidder for a consideration. The law, however, prohibits any subletting of contracts without the consent of the postmaster general.

PYTHIANS KEEP CARNAHAN.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 31.—The supreme lodge, Knights of Pythias, today confirmed the reappointment of Gen. James R. Carnahan, of Indianapolis, as major general commanding the uniform rank. The following members of the board of control were elected: L. G. Aldrich, of Mississippi; C. F. S. Neal, of Indiana, and John A. Harvey, of Illinois. The rest of the session was devoted to the introduction and discussion of bills and amendments. The Rathbone Sisters at their first session today elected three of their supreme officers, as follows: Supreme chief, Mrs. Dell Glazier, of Iowa; supreme senior chief, Bell Quinlan, of Illinois; supreme junior chief, Mrs. Lida A. Monroe, of California. The rest of the supreme officers will be elected this afternoon. The competitive drills for class A and the battalion drills continued today. The local company today turned over to Major General Carnahan drafts amounting to $8,800, which will be paid out by General Carnahan Saturday noon to the successful companies which have won the prize drills.

OTIS WANTS ACTIVE DUTY.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Major General Otis has arrived in Washington and called upon Secretary Root and Adjutant General Corbin at the war department and proffered a formal request for assignment to active duty. This request is now under consideration. He has been waiting orders at his home in Rochester, or nearby, ever since his return from the Philippines, in the early summer. The retirement next Monday of Major General Wheeler as commanding officer of the department of the lakes with headquarters at Chicago is the first available opening for an officer of the rank of General Otis and it is probable that he will be assigned to this post.

reparation and guarantees of future protection.

"'With the establishment and recognition of such authority, the United States would wish to withdraw its military forces from Pekin and remit to the processes of peaceful negotiation our just demands.

"'We consider, however, that a continued occupation of Pekin would be ineffective to produce the desired result, unless all the powers unite therein with entire harmony of purpose.

"'Any power which determines to withdraw its troops from Pekin will necessarily proceed thereafter to protect its interests in China by its own method, and we think that this would make a general withdrawal expedient.

"'As to the time and manner of withdrawal, we think that, in view of the imperfect knowledge of the military situation resulting from the interruptions of telegraphic communications, the several military commanders at Pekin should be instructed to confer and agree together upon the withdrawal as a concerted movement, as they agreed upon the advance.

"'The result of these considerations is that, unless there is such a general expression by the powers in favor of continued occupation as to the views expressed by the government of Russia and lead to a general agreement for continued occupation, we shall give instructions to the commander of the American forces in China to withdraw our troops from Pekin after due conference with the other commanders as to the time and manner of withdrawal.

"'The government of the United States is much gratified by the assurance given by Russia that the occupation of Nieuchwang is for military purposes incidental to the military steps for the security of the Russian border provinces menaced by the Chinese, and that as soon as order shall be re-established Russia will retire her troops from those places if the action of the other powers be not an obstacle thereto.

"'No obstacle in this regard will arise through any action of the United States, whose policy is fixed and has been repeatedly proclaimed.

"'Alvey A. Adee,
"'Acting Secretary.

"'Department of State, Washington, Aug. 29, 1900.

"'You will communicate the foregoing to the minister of foreign affairs and invite early consideration and response.'"

CHAFEE HAS ORDERS.

No orders had been issued to General Chaffee to carry out the suggestion made in the Russian note to the powers for the withdrawal of troops from Pekin. Several days ago, in anticipation of anything like this occurring, orders were sent to General Chaffee under which he could act in case there should be a withdrawal of the troops of any power or the commanders representing the various powers could no longer act in concert. It is further stated that no action will be taken until all of the powers to whom the note was sent have responded, and even then there is no disposition for a precipitate or hurried withdrawal. There is no official information here to the effect that the Russians already have begun to withdraw, and it is not believed Russia will leave Pekin until there has been some further definite understanding.

EUROPE FAVORS PROPOSAL.

London, Aug. 31.—The Associated Press has official authority for announcing that the American-Russian proposal in favor of withdrawal of the allied forces from Pekin, with the view of facilitating negotiations for the conclusion of peace has not only met with considerable favor at European chancelleries, but is almost certain to be adopted. In the meanwhile, the question of employing Li Hung Chang as an intermediary is meeting with more and more favor and, as The Associated Press has intimated in recent dispatches, will, in all probabilities, be settled affirmatively as soon as Li Hung Chang is able to obtain the necessary authority.

The recent statement that the admirals of the powers in Chinese waters contemplated detaining Li Hung Chang at Taku is devoid of foundation. Li Hung Chang will remain at Shanghai, endeavoring to the utmost to open communications with his colleagues of the Chinese government. There is a growing conviction in official circles here that the withdrawal of the allies from Pekin is the only practical procedure under the existing circumstances and it is believed the retention of the allied forces at Pekin is liable to raise further complications of a dangerous character and unnecessarily irritate the Chinese populace. There is, however, no doubt in official circles that it will be necessary for the powers to maintain their hold of the Taku forts and certain other strategical points until satisfactory terms are arranged and ample guarantees given by China for her future good behavior.

SUMMER PALACE CAPTURED.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 31.—General Linevitch, commanding the Russian troops at the Chinese capital, reports from Pekin, under date of August 20, that the Russian detachment, on the previous day, captured, without loss, the imperial summer palace. The Russian artillerymen have also unearthed at Pekin thirty cannon and many rifles.

A large quantity of silver was found at the tsung-li-yamen.

THE CABINET MEETS.

Washington, Aug. 31.—The regular Friday cabinet meeting was held today. The Chinese situation was, of course, the all-important question, but as the United States has now announced her policy to the powers, no further step is possible until the replies are received. The question, therefore, did not actually receive much consideration at the meeting today. Only two other subjects besides that of China were considered—the condition of several hundred or thousand destitute miners at Cape Nome and of a large number of Indian tribes in Alaska. It was decided that the war department should send a transport to Cape Nome to bring back such of the miners as are penniless and liable to endanger their lives there this winter by reason of their destitute condition. It is believed that a large proportion of those who flocked to Cape Nome early in the spring hoping to "strike it rich," are stranded. Provisions and clothing will be sent to the Indians who are said to be destitute. When the cabinet met today, so far as known, but one reply to our note had been received. This is from France, and expressed, so it is said, complete acquiesence in the American view of the situation.

KILLED IN PHILIPPINES.

Washington, Aug. 31.—A dispatch from General MacArthur announces that Second Lieut. Henry N. Way, Fourth infantry, was killed near Villa Viega, Luzon, August 28. Lieutenant Way was born near Rutland, Ill., in 1874. He was graduated from the military academy in 1899. He went to Manila April 7, 1899, and served with his regiment until March 23d, of this year, since which time he had been on duty with Castner's scouts.

KILLED BY TORNADO.

Winnipeg, Mani., Aug. 31.—In a tornado which passed over the village of Wapella, Mani., Angus McDonald, a farmer living two miles from town, and his two children were killed and Mrs. McDonald seriously injured. The McDonalds attempted to take refuge in the cellar, but before they could reach it the tornado lifted them and the house high in the air. Many buildings in Wapella were badly damaged.

CENSUS BULLETINS.

Washington, Aug. 31.—The census bureau announces that the population of Quincy, Ill., is 36,252, against 31,494 in 1890. This is an increase of 4,758, or 15.11 per cent.

The census bureau announces that the population of Pawtucket, R. I., is 39,231, against 27,633 in 1890. This is an increase of 11,598, or 41.97 per cent.

FAKE STORY OF RICH LOOT.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 31.—An unconfirmed report is in circulation here that the Union Pacific car robbed by five men at Tipton Wednesday night, contained $100,000 in gold destined to pay off the soldiers in the Philippines and that the robbers secured the whole shipment.

St. Louis, Aug. 31.—James Eggleston, president of the Pacific Express company, is out of the city. Mr. Hartson, his secretary, declared that reports to headquarters showed the robbers obtained less than $100.

Washington, Aug. 31.—The government has lost no funds through the reported hold-up on the Union Pacific railroad in Wyoming yesterday. At least careful inquiry at the war department shows that no funds were in transit to the troops in Manila, nor were any of the staff bureaus at the war department sending any money by that train to the Philippines or to China. It is said at the war department that if the department had been sending money in this way it would not be the loser in case of robbery, for the express companies assume the responsibility for the safe transfer of the money and the loss would fall upon them.

Some people frequently drink tea as a remedy for headache. The habit should be practiced with caution, as an eminent physician states that the tannic acid in the tea causes rheumatism.

The uninterrupted optimism of Lord Roberts' reports indicates that his faith in ultimate promotion has not been jarred a bit.

Next week ought to witness a thorough cleaning of the city. The Union Veteran Legion encampment deserves the compliment of seeing us at our best.

The eagle and the bear are at the head of the international cake walk in China, but whether they are leading the procession or merely stopping it is not yet so clear.

The German paper which boldly inquires what has become of Emepor William's offer of a reward for the rescue of the legationers and asserts the international troops have earned about 3,000,000 marks under it appears unmindful of the laws governing lese majeste.

Gen. Joseph Wheeler, now a brigadier in the regular army, will be placed on the retired list Monday next at noon, after six months' service under his present commission. General Wheeler reaches the age of 65 years, and under law must retire. He is now commanding the Department of the Lakes, with headquarters at Chicago, where he has been stationed since early last spring. This department was formerly commanded by General Miles, later by General Merritt, and once by General Brooke, all major generals of the regular army. Orders detaching General Wheeler and announcing his retirement to the army will be issued this week. His successor has not been selected, but the command will devolve upon some officer of high rank. General Wheeler's retirement creates a vacancy in the grade of brigadier general, to which the president would ve appointed Gen. Fitzhugh Lee t for the fact that he has passed the age limit. Three officers are now most prominently mentioned for it, and the selection will probably go to one of them. These are Major General Wood, governor of Cuba, and Major General Chaffee, commanding the troops in China. The latter is a colonel in the regular service, and the former a captain and surgeon. It has been the president's intention to appoint General Wood to field rank in the army, and the present vacancy may therefore go to him. General Chaffee is a much older man, however, and has been in the line of the army throughout his army career. It is shown that General Wood can well afford to wait some time and hold his present command, and for this reason Chaffee may secure the prize.

BRESCI'S PUNISHMENT.

Those who think the fact that Italy does not punish murder by death a lenient circumstance for Bresci, the assassin of King Humbert, do not know what life imprisonment in Italy means. It is a living entombment, an existence so replete in physical and mental torture that no condemned person who knows the Italian method of life punishment could but choose death in its stead if choice were presented to him. Bresci is condemned henceforth to a life of absolute solitude, silence and inactivity. He must never speak again. He will see no one save at rare intervals his jailor. He will pass his days in the "secret cell," a narrow pen affording but room to contain him. If he breaks the rules that govern his confinement or attempts suicide, added tortures are provided, as irons, the straightjacket and a bag to sleep in, which prevents movement of hand or foot.

The food is given only once in twenty-fur hours. If the prisoner is sick, the doctor can have him removed to the prison infirmary, where he is kept in a separate chamber. Prisoners in solitary confinement may neither, read, write, smoke nor work. They are condemned to absolute idleness and absolute silence. Very few complete their sentence; they either go mad or die.

The extra punishment of the "irons" is terrible. The handcuffs are joined by chains to similar rings on the ankles. The prisoner is seated on a bench the shape of an ass' back. At night, still in irons, he can lie on his plank. The "straight bed" is a strong wooden case resembling a coffin without lid. At the foot the sufferer's feet are fastened in a kind stocks, so that the legs cannot be moved, while the arms are confined by the straight waistcoat. Unless by order of the governor, the prisoner may not be moved, and his jailer has to feed him.

LET ALL BE ASTIR.

One week from next Sunday the sixteenth national encampment of the Union Veteran Legion of the United States will be inaugurated in this city by special patriotic and religious services in the churches. On Monday the visitors will begin to arrive and on Tuesday the big convention of veterans will be fully under way. The time intervening is short and Fort Wayne must acquit herself of the duties of hospitality as never before. Every resident of Fort Wayne should regard himself as a committee of one to do something to make the encampment a success. We want the veterans and other visitors to be glad they came when they leave to carry home the distinct and indelible impression that Fort Wayne is a good city to visit and the best place on earth wherein to be entertained.

As a tribute to the occasion and to the veterans the city ought to be ablaze with the national colors. Decorations should be profuse. Every home should bear a flag. Down town the city should repeat the decorative display that was the wonder of the centennial celebration five years ago. Every business place ought to be and we feel sure will be dressed out bravely in the glorious colors of the republic. There can never be too much of the flag. Let Old Glory float from every flagstaff and trail from every window. Make Fort Wayne look like the patriotc city that it is.

But remember, the time is short and diligence must rule. There is time enough, but none to waste. Let everybody be astir.

ARREST OF WEIK

PAPERS SERVED AT HIS HOME IN GREENCASTLE.

GOVERNMENT IS AFTER HIM

RETAINED CREDENTIALS AFTER LEAVING SERVICE.

MURDERERS YET AT LARGE

SLAYERS OF ROBINSON ARE ELUDING OFFICERS.

Indianapolis, Aug. 31.—Jesse W. Weik was formally placed under arrest yesterday at his home in Greencastle by Deputy United States Marshal Boyd, of this city, and arraigned before Commissioner Higgins, who had gone to Greencastle to hear the preliminary evidence.

Mr. Weik is confined to his bed and pleaded he was not able to be tried and his case was set for hearing October 1. He will be confined to his bed for a long time, and while no bones are broken, he is badly bruised.

None of the credentials which he is said to have retained after he left the government service, and which he is charged with having used for his own benefit, have come to light, and the inspectors who are working on the case are at a loss to know how they were disposed of.

The arrest and formal arraignment were conducted very quietly and the government officers came and went with as little publicity as possible. It was not generally known in Greencastle that the government had begun proceedings against Mr. Weik.

JOHN H. LEWIS DEAD.

Anderson, Ind., Aug. 31.—John H. Lewis, formerly of Anderson and at one time editor of the Anderson Herald, died last evening at the Marion, Ind., soldiers' home. Mr. Lewis was sixty-three years of age and a native of Rush county. He was a captain during the civil war and severely wounded in action. He was at one time treasurer of Hendricks county and afterwards removed to Warsaw, where he organized the Lake City bank, now in successful operation. He has been engaged in manufacturing interests during the past five years. He leaves two children, E. I. Lewis, of the Indianapolis Press, and Miss Cara Lewis, the latter residing with her grandfather, Mr. McMurrey, in Indianapolis. The remains will be taken to Indianapolis for interment, the obsequies taking place from 2222 College avenue.

SOMEWHAT COMPLICATED.

Peru, Ind., Aug. 31.—There is a peculiar feature in connection with the marriage of Thomas Dunfield and Miss Eva Parmer, which occurred at Tiosa, north of this city, a few days ago, Rev. Mr. Dunfield officiating. The bridegroom is a widower and the father of six children, and the wonder of the people now is, what relation his wife bears to his children. Her brother, Joseph Parmer, married Mr. Dunfield's oldest daughter, and now the present Mrs. Dunfield is step-mother to her brother, grandmother and aunt to their children and step-mother and brother and sister to her husband's children. Her husband is her father-in-law.

DISGORGED A WATCH.

Logansport, Ind., Aug. 31.—John Grusenmeyer, a well-known farmer near here, while attending the G. A. R. encampment at Chicago, was robbed, as he supposed, of his watch. Immediately preceding this he felt a strange man's hand in his pocket, and he grabbed the offending member, but the fellow wrestled loose and escaped in the crowd. Later he saw the same man in a court-yard and grabbed him, demanding his watch, and the fellow gave up one resembling Grusenmeyer's timepiece, and was released. After returning to the hotel Grusenmeyer found his watch on the dresser in his room, and he now finds himself standing in the light of having unintentionally robbed an innocent man.

CLOSED THE HOME.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 31.—The McKenzie home for dependent children has been closed by the board of children's guardians because of alleged cruelty to children. One lad, aged five, who incurred the displeasure of Mrs. McKenzie, it is alleged, was lowered into a cistern suspended by a rope around his waist and given a drenching. Other children are said to bear marks of violent beatings, from blacksnake whips. Children were compelled to sleep on the floors instead of beds.

SUIT FOR $167,000.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 31.—Dewitt C. Dillworth, treasurer of the City and Interurban Electric Railway companies, when first organized, has sued Arthur Kennedy, president and chief stockholder of the company, for $167,000, claiming that amount was promised him for assisting in the organization. The suit was filed at Pittsburg.

A REMOVAL TO MINNESOTA.

Wabash, Ind., Aug. 31.—Prof. W. T. Hansen, for a long time assistant principal of the Wabash high school, has resigned to accept the position of principal of the high school at Stillwater, Minn. He has already left for that city to begin his work.

MONSTER WATERMELONS.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 31.—A watermelon raised on the farm of George J. Rockstroh weighed sixty-four pounds, and with it were marketed several melons weighing from forty to fifty pounds each. The quality was most excellent.

MINISTERIAL APPOINTMENTS.

Fairmount, Ind., Aug. 31.—The annual conference of the Wesleyan Methodists of Indiana closed yesterday at their camp grounds, one mile west of the city. A monster camp-meeting preceded the conference, with an attendance of 1,000 to 2,000. All out-going trains today were crowded on account of the departing ministers and their families. The list of appointments is as follows: Albion, H. T. Hawkins; Amboy, E. H. Kennedy; Anderson, Walter Thompson; Bryant, J. J. Coleman; Boxley, T. P. Parker; Crums, George Babcock; Strawtown, D. F. Gordon; Sheridan, L. Tice; Sheridan circuit, L. Tice; Westfield, J. O. Baker; Saliamona, C. A. Billheimer; Hartford City, Walter Thompson; Peru, P. L. Couch; Greensboro, W. L. Northam; Mount Etna, S. A. Mow; Liberty, C. M. Keys; Kirklin, Wardner Baker; Roseburg, L. E. Bears; Fairview, H. C. Brown; Pleasant Grove, M. G. O'Brien; Thorntown, George Reber; Lewis Creek, J. Hester; Hamlet, Belle McClure; Laurel, W. H. Hopkins; Plymouth, Robert Jeffrey; Plymouth mission, J. F. Presnall; Fountain City, to be supplied; Fowler, to be supplied; Fairmount, C. S. Smith; Laketon, Esther L. Dickey; Mount Olive, Wardner Baker; Ligonier, S. Vanblaricom; Payne, L. H. Carter; Wabash, J. W. Brown.

KEATING IS FAILING.

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 31.—"If possible I wish to exonerate myself from this charge of murder against me before I die," said Patrick Keating, aged 68, as he paced feebly about the narrow confines of his cell in jail. "It is a great injustice," he continued, and his emaciated appearance showed plainly that with fresh air and the best of care, his future on this earth was short indeed.

At this time his attorney, R. S. Gregory, is endeavoring to secure a preliminary hearing for both Mrs. Robinson and her father, that they might be released on bond. The counsel for the couple claims that the imprisonment is telling so rapidly on the old man that he will not live a week in the county jail. His daughter, the widow of the murdered man, is taking the proceedings very philosophically, and with little apparent concern, asked if her brothers, who are also charged with murder, had been caught. Judge Behymer, presiding at police court, stated that he would consider the case, and Saturday morning would set the time for the preliminary hearing. Prosecuting Attorney White states that the preliminary trials cannot be heard this week, with justice to either the state or the defendants.

With the entire police force and a corps of private detectives on their trails, Charles and Joseph Keating, the alleged murderers of Robinson, have thus far successfully evaded arrest.

Nothing has been heard from the officers who were so close upon their heels, although Chief Cashmore has been expecting at any time to learn of the fugitives being captured.

KILLS ALL BUT HIS ENEMY.

Jackson, Ky., Aug. 31.—Nancy Barnett, her granddaughter, 12 years old, and Mrs. James Bennett, were killed by the maddened husband of Mrs. Bennett at Howard's Creek, eight miles from this place. Mrs. Bennett was dining with the Barnett family, one of whom is James Barnett. Bennett was insanely jealous of Barnett. He learned of the fact that his wife was at the Barnett house and procuring a rifle started at once for the place. Arriving, he found the party ready to sit down at the dinner table. He opened fire recklessly and the three women, too frightened to flee, were shot down in their tracks. Barnett fled from the house and Bennett, seeing the man escape, threw aside his weapon and fled to the woods. He has not yet been captured.

THE BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS

OPPOSITION TO A SEWER ON COLUMBIA STREET.

Leith Street Will be Opened to Hanna —Bids Received for Many Improvements.

The board of public works in regular session last evening transacted considerable important business. Property owners on Columbia street presented a numerously signed remonstrance against the construction of a sewer on that thoroughfare, and as there was only one name signed to the original petition, the board decided to postpone action until September 27th.

The board adopted a resolution for the opening of Leith street, from the east line of Sanders and Metcalf's addition to Hanna street, the street to be of a uniform width of fifty feet.

The assessment rolls for the grading of College street, from Wayne to Berry; for the paving of the alley between Main and Columbia, from Calhoun to Harrison; for paving the alley between Washington and Jefferson, from Calhoun to Clinton, and for the construction of a sewer between Walton avenue and Winter street, from Hayden street to the Findlay, Fort Wayne and Western railroad, were approved.

Bids were received for the following improvements:

Grading Harrison street and constructing brick sidewalks on each side thereof, from Woodland avenue to Marshall street. The firm of C. E. Moellering & Co., being the only bidder, was awarded the contract at $1.59 per lineal foot.

A new sidewalk on the west side of Oliver street, from Creighton avenue to Pontiac street. William Goodfellow bid 33 cents per lineal foot; Geo. Wilhelm, 33 cents, and C. E. Moellering & Co., 36 cents. The work was awarded to George Wilhelm.

A brick sidewalk on the south side of Home avenue, from Fairfield avenue to lot No. 45 in Ninde's addition. George Wilhelm bid 25 cents per lineal foot and C. E. Moellering & Co. 31 cents. The contract was awarded to Wilhelm.

Relaying the sidewalk on the north side of Pontiac street, from Lafayette street to Hanna street; constructing a new sidewalk on the south side of Pontiac street and grading a portion of Pontiac street. The contract was awarded to C. E. Moellering & Co., who bid 24 cents for grading, 16 cents for relaying the old walk, $6.50 a thousand for the new brick in the old walk, and 33 cents per lineal foot for the new walk on the south side.

Construction of a main sewer through lot No. 2, McCulloch's subdivision, from High street to the first alley south. Anton Rieg bid 63 cents per lineal foot and C. E. Moellering & Co. 64 cents. The contract was awarded to Anton Rieg.

FEARS FELT FOR BOUTELLE.

Bangor, Me., Aug. 31.—The condition of Charles A. Boutelle, member of congress for the Fourth Maine district and candidate for re-election, is a matter of great interest in political circles generally as well as to the people of his district and all of Maine. When Congressman Boutelle was stricken at Young's hotel last winter a hemorrhage flooded the brain with blood. This blood has long since been absorbed and the trouble since then has not been, as reported so frequently, a blood clot on the brain, but a crystallization of blood in the veins of the head. Although Mr. Boutelle's case is still serious there is ground for hope and good reason to expect that he will recover completely. It is thought that he can not safely resume active work for some time after his discharge from the sanitarium.

IN FIVE ROUNDS

CORBETT BARRED M'COY FROM HEAVY WEIGHT CLASS.

INDIANA LAD WAS NOT IN IT

OUT-POINTED AND OUT-FOUGHT BY EX-CHAMPION.

WAS GOOD IN FIRST ROUND

A SCIENTIFIC BATTLE SEEN BY ENORMOUS CROWD.

New York, Aug. 31.—The spectacle held in the ring of the Twentieth Century Athletic club in Madison Square garden last night, when James J. Corbett, former champion heavy weight of the world, and Kid McCoy met to fight for a share of the gate receipts, which, according to Jim Kennedy, the manager of the club, amounted to $75,000 and was larger by thousands than the receipts of any other prize-ring contest ever held, was a clean-cut, smashing mill. There were two stages to the fight. One of them was the first round, in which McCoy was the aggressor and in which he seemed to hold Corbett safe, out-pointing and out-fighting him from gong to gong. Thereafter he was not in it at all. In the second round the former champion, instead of playing a waiting game, became the aggressor and soon had McCoy guessing as to what would happen next. It was not the blow on the jaw that affected McCoy. The body punches laid him low.

Always susceptible to a blow in any part of his anatomy, McCoy has been peculiarly susceptible to body blows.

At the ring there were men from Chicago and Cincinnati, San Francisco and Denver, St. Louis and Salt Lake, Buffalo and Atlanta.

From all points they came, the chief cities of Canada being well represented.

McCoy's defeat removes him from the ranks of the heavy weights who are ambitious to wrest the title champion from Jim Jeffries.

Corbett came out of the ring without a mark or scratch or bruise on him. McCoy's face was puffed and swollen and his right eye was discolored.

But otherwise he seemed to be none the worse for his battle.

Betting on the fight was very tame. It was expected that the heavy wagers would be placed at the ringside, but the McCoy money did no materialize. Corbett was a pronounced favorite from the start. Everybody seemed to want the Corbett end.

The fight last night differed from most recent contests in that it caused more talk and speculation after it was over than before the men stepped into the ring.

For several days before the date set for the fight there were rumors in circulation to the effect that the men were not training very hard and that they were out for the gate receipts rather than the glory of winning a fast and bruising mill.

Notwithstanding these stories, which were disproved by the result, Madison Square Garden held 10,000 spectators when the referee called the two men supposed to be the most scientific of boxers to the center of the ring. From the moment when McCoy refused to shake Corbett's hand the crowd knew there was to be no fake, and when McCoy made Corbett stagger a little in the first round the cheers were deafening.

The surprise of the evening was Corbett's hitting power. He not only outclassed McCoy in feinting and clever foot-work, but when the opportunity came in the fourth and fifth rounds the former champion beat down his opponent with sledge-hammer blows, which rained so fast that McCoy was bewildered. The knock-out landed directly in the pit of the stomach and was the same kind of a blow that Fitzsimmons used to finish Corbett at Carson City.

After the close of the contest Corbett was very happy and said he would try to get on another match with Jeffries.

McCoy was much dejected. In an interview he said the only thing to make him sorry was the fact that his defeat was administered by Corbett, whom he has disliked for some time.

McCoy, immediately after his seconds finished with him, was driven to his home, where, it is said, he and his wife both cried over the humiliation of a beating by the hated Corbett.

THE FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

Round 1. Corbett started feinting, with McCoy breaking. McCoy tried with the left, but missed. Corbett feinted with the left, but stepped back. McCoy tried a right swing, but fell short. Corbett tried with his left for the head, but McCoy threw it off. Corbett, after a spell, tried another left, but was stopped. Both feinted cleverly and Corbett tried another left. McCoy rushed with both hands, but Corbett stepped back breaking ground three times. Corbett tried left swing, but was cleverly blocked and McCoy made him break ground in trying left for the head. Neither landed a blow during the round, but the bell finding them sparring in the middle of the ring.

Round 5. The "kid" stepped in with the left to the face. He tried a right swing, but missed. McCoy rushed again, but Jim put right and left to the head. Jim tried left for the head, but they clinched and broke at the referee's bidding. McCoy was now in Jim's corner and Jim tried a left swing, under which the "kid" ducked. McCoy jabbed his left to the face. McCoy again got into Jim's corner. Corbett smothered McCoy with rights and lefts on the body and head. McCoy was then unable to defend himself and simply crossed his arms under his face. Corbett then seeing that he had McCoy at his mercy, drove a hard left to the stomach, which doubled McCoy in two, McCoy holding on to Jim's left glove. Corbett then planted a hard right over the heart, which sent McCoy staggering, and Corbett, following quickly, sent another left to the same spot and McCoy went to the floor. While the referee was counting the ten seconds McCoy struggled to regain his feet, but he was counted out before he could stand. White had counted him out before the "kid" got up and McCoy did not seem to realize that he had been defeated. The referee had to tell him to go to his corner. McCoy left the ring within a minute after he was counted out, while Corbett was detained by his friends, who surrounded him and smothered him with congratulations. Time of round—2:03.

CHAFFEE IN ARIZONA.

Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 31.—In 1878 Adna R. Chaffee, now major general commanding the American forces in China, was a captain of cavalry, stationed in Arizona. Then, as now, he was a man of sharp, brusque speech. Never did he coddle his men, yet no commander ever had a more devoted following than did he. He and his troops rarely knew the comforts of garrison life, for where there were Indians and trouble there also were Chaffee and his men.

The order changing the Yavapai Apaches from the valley of the upper Verde river to the White mountain reservation on the Gila was the cause of considerable disturbance among the Apaches, and so the better part of the winter was spent by Chaffee afield. The weather was bad. One particularly wet and miserable day Chaffee had to spend in his Sibley tent. The fire in the little conical sheet-iron stove simply wouldn't burn. The captain summoned his "dog robber," as the soldiers term an officer's personal attendant. "Bring some dry wood," he commanded.

The soldier, an Irish veteran known to history only as "Muldoon," stood "at attention" and replied: "Captain, there don't be anny."

"I know better," the officer snapped. "Get out of here and don't come back without dry wood."

Mudoon saluted, about-faced and slushed through the mud on his hopeless quest. Wood assuredly must have been hard to find, for he failed to return that day or that year and was finally dropped as a deserter.

Two years later, Chaffee, promoted to be major, was in command of Fort McDowell, on the lower Verde, 100 miles south of the point where Muldoon had disappeared in the rain. One hot summer night the major was sitting on the veranda of his adobe-built house, in enjoyment of the moonlight and his cigar, when from around the corner of the building came a figure, staggering under the weight of an immense armful of mesquite, that had plainly come from the household woodpile. The figure came around to the porch steps and halted. The right hand went stiffly to the brim of a battered civilian hat and a voice in the richest of brogues announced: "Capt'in, I've brought ye th' dhry wood."

Officers said that Muldoon richly deserved five years in Alcatraz military prison, but the humor of the affair so struck the court martial and the general commanding that all he got was six months at post fatigue and the guardhouse, with a "bob-tailed" discharge at the end of the time. Muldoon still lives in Arizona and his happiest moments are those when he is telling of scouting with Chaffee.

Fleming left for Decatur at noon and today a meeting in the Adams county capital will be addressed by Mr. Burke and Hon. R. K. Erwin, democratic candidate for judge.

The Fort Waynes changed their base of operations yesterday and were reinforced by Charley Babb and Hon Fricken, who have been out of the game on account of injuries. The result was that the tail-end Marions fell easy victims to high-class ball playing. Babb didn't have many chances, but his presence on the third corner gave confidence to the other players. Fricken did the twirling and he was an enigma which the Glassblowers could not solve effectively. The Fort Waynes played a fast game, the work of Krueger and Belden especially being an eye-opener to the "fans" of the gas town. Hemphill and Brashear led the batting with a two-bagger and a single each, but the entire team played the game scientifically and with ginger, and this means that they could not lose. Score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Mansfield has been playing wonderful ball recently, winning twenty-three out of twenty-seven games played. For the first time in the season the club is over the .500 per cent. mark and may finish in the first division.

"Chick" Stahl wasn't in the Boston-New York game yesterday until the ninth inning when a hit was needed. He was called on to bat for Clark and lined out a pretty bingle which tied the score. "Chick" then stole second base, but there was no batter to send him home.

Dayton is away from home now and will play most of its games on foreign grounds during the balance of the season. The fall taken by Anderson yesterday was unexpected, but next week and the week following the "Old Soldiers" will have some trouble winning games from Toledo and Mansfield. Nine games are to be played with the Mud Hens and Haymakers and Wheeling has another chance at Dayton, too. After the Marion series Fort Wayne will play nine games at home and three at Anderson.

Mansfield News: "A great triple play was made by the visitors in the third inning of the first game Wednesday. In this inning McVey, the first man up, made a base hit. Conners followed with a slow one down the first base line, which was beaten out. With two men on bases Truby came to bat and hit a hot liner to first, which was taken by Quinn. The latter stepped on the initial sack and Conners was out before he could get back. Robinson, the Anderson shortstop, was playing close to second and Quinn turned and threw to that bag before McVey could return. It was one of those plays which is seen once in a while at a ball park."

President Power talked with Mr. Mautner over the long distance telephone from New Castle this morning and says that the Quaker town will probably finish out the season. The players refused to play yesterday unless they were paid back salaries, but President Power believes now that he has arrangements made for them to finish the schedule. Mr. Power also informed Mr. Mautner that the forfeited game with Wheeling did not count, as the postponed game earlier in the season had been scheduled to be played in Fort Wayne September 9 and the Wheelings were only desirous of playing that they might not come here again this season. According to league rules, however, the game stands until the board of directors decides otherwise.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—September wheat opened a shade lower at 74½c to 74⅝c, dropped to 74¼c and then recovered to 74½@74⅝c, an opening which consumed the first hours of trading today. There was a feeling of easiness due to lower Liverpool cables and larger Argentine shipments—984,000 bushels—according to board of trade figures. Business was largely changing September for deferred futures. Local receipts were 325 cars, 29 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 395 cars, against 312 last week and 575 a year ago.

Talk of cash sales assisted September in getting to 74⅞c, but considerable long stuff came out and the market declined to 73⅞c, closing weak, ⅝c lower at 74c.

In corn there was light offerings on one hand, and a small demand on the other. Cables were easier. Receipts were 209 cars. September opened 1⅛c lower at 39⅞c, touched 40c, reacted to 39⅝c and reacted to 39⅞c.

The close was easy, ¼c lower at 39¾c.

Oats were easier. Changing formed the chief business. September opened a shade lower at 21⅜c, touched 21⅛c and reacted to 21⅜c. Receipts were 322 cars.

An excellent cash demand and light hog receipts formed a good support for provisions. September pork opened 5c higher at 11.00 and sold to $11.07½; September lard a shade higher at $6.67½, selling to $6.75, and September ribs unchanged at $7.07½, advancing to $7.12½@7.15.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 31.—Pennsylvania railroad was depressed ¾ at the opening of the stock market today by the statement of July earnings. Otherwise changes were unimportant at the opening and dealings on a very small scale. Reports of a probable war of rates between the gas companies of Chicago caused heavy selling of Peoples' Gas, which fell 1¾ per cent. Tobacco and Sugar were also raided and lost 1 and 1⅜ per cent. respectively. Sympathetic selling affected Brooklyn Transit ¾ and railroads were also easier, Pennsylvania extending its decline to a point. Some demand for Atchison preferred steadied the list towards 11 o'clock.

A little more vigorous drive was made against Sugar and the price promptly broke to 118¼. Some effect was produced on the general market, but the concessions in the active stocks were small. Chicago Terminal preferred declined 2¼ and Union Bag preferred 1⅝. National Steel preferred advanced 1¼.

Bonds were irregular.

He is in receipt of a letter from the Indianapolis police explaining that a negro arrested in the capital city carried sewed up in his coat a lady's fine watch and chain. The negro had just arived in Indianapolis from Fort Wayne, where he claims to have been employed on a sewer. The police believe that the watch is stolen property. No theft of a gold watch and chain has been reported to Superintendent Gorsline, however.

HON. J. W. KERN CANNOT COME

HIS APPOINTMENT HERE HAS BEEN CANCELED.

The democratic county central committee today received word from Hon. John W. Kern, democratic candidate for governor of Indiana, that he would be unable, owing to sickness, to fill his engagement to speak in this city next Thursday night. While this news is very disappointing to the committee and hundreds of democrats, it is compensated for somewhat by the assurance that at a later date Mr. Kern will fill the appointment.

RACE HORSES BURNED.

Providence, R. I., Aug. 31.—Fire broke out late this afternoon in the Camel sheds and stables of the Narragansett park, where the grand circuit race meeting is being held, and before all the horses could be taken out eight had been either suffocated or burned to death, including Ace, Mark A and Agmon Jim, all owned by H. Simon, of Ontario, Canada. The fire spread rapidly and threatened many exhibition halls. Help was sent from this city, but at 3:15 o'clock the fire was still burning fiercely.

CONDEMN GOTHAM POLICE.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 31.—The Afro-American council concluded its sessions today, the last feature being an address by Booker T. Washington, who was received with great applause. He confined his remarks to suggestions for the betterment and uplifting of the race. He declared strife must be avoided and that friction with the whites is unnecessary. Philadelphia was chosen as the next place of meeting, the convention to be held in August, 1901. The following resolutions were adopted:

"This council not only approves, but herewith sends greetings to our brethren in New York city and bid them God speed in their manly fight against mob law and police injustice.

"The thanks of this council are tendered to the journals of New York, who, without any regard to party affiliation, condemn, in unmeasured terms the inhuman conduct of the Tammany policemen, who, instead of giving protection to fleeing and defenseless men, women and children of the negro race, were found to be among the chief violators of the law."

POISONED BY SALAD.

Prospect, Ohio, Aug. 31.—Twenty-eight persons were poisoned here yesterday in an outdoor dinner at the reunion of the Biggerstaff family. Several were in a serious condition and were not out of danger until today. It is thought the poisoning was caused by a salad, of which the victims partook freely.

EXPERT IS COMING.

TO REPORT ON PROPOSED ELECTRIC LINE.

R. F. Hanneman, a Detroit Capitalist, Looks Over the Fort Wayne-Syracuse Project.

From even a most casual examination, R. F. Hanneman, a prominent Detroit capitalist, who arrived in Fort Wayne yesterday, is most favorably impressed with the proposition to construct an electric line from this city to Syracuse, connecting the Goshen line. Mr. Hanneman said this morning he regarded the project as entirely feasible, and that it seemed to offer unusual advantages as a business proposition.

In company with P. A. Randall Mr. Hanneman went over a portion of the proposed route, and consulted a number of prominent Fort Wayne men of means, as well as making a careful examination of maps of the proposed route. The idea is to reach Syracuse, Kosciusko county, from this city, going by way of either Churubusco or Columbia City, and connecting at Syracuse with the Goshen line now building to that place.

Following Mr. Hanneman's advice, an expert will be in the city within the next ten days to go over the entire route and make a report. The gentlemen back of the proposition do not care to go to the expense of securing franchises unless they are assured the line would be of such value as to make it remunerative. Upon the report of the expert will depend the question whether anything further is to be done in the matter.

HE CAME DOWN.

Amusing Way of Administering Justice in Early Tennessee.

In Old Times in West Tennessee the author describes an amusing example of the administration of justice in the early history of Tennessee. Squire Thompson was the first magistrate in Tipton, and the reader will see that he did not allow offenders to go unpunished.

"Joe" Seahorn, a quarrelsome fellow, had a difficulty with a neighbor which ended in blows. The squire ordered the offending parties arrested and brought them before him. Seahorn, the chief offender, took to his heels when he saw the officer approaching. Finding that he should be overtaken, he climbed a tree like a squirrel and took refuge in the topmost branches. The officer commanded him to come down. Seahorn defiantly refused.

"If ye want me," he called, "come up here an' get me!" Thinking himself safe, he crowed like a defiant rooster on his perch.

The officer hesitated but a moment. "Fetch me an ax," he said to a bystander. The ax was soon in hand and he began aiming sturdy blows at the trunk.

"Joe's" bravado began to melt as the tree cracked and showed signs of falling.

"Hold on!" he cried, rather weakly. "I'll come down."

"Hold on yourself!" shouted the officer. "This tree's coming down, and you with it!" saying which he whacked away at the thinning trunk.

Seahorn, thoroughly frightened, began to slide down, and struck the ground just as the tree left the stump. He was caught in a moment by the officer, and for safe keeping was put under a cart body weighted down with a huge log. There he spent the day, awaiting the squires time for trying his case.

FREE STATE BOERS.

More Liberal in Their Religious Views than Their Transvaal Brethren.

The Boers of the Free State are essentially a pastoral people. Aside from the marvelously rich diamond deposits at Jacgersfontein (Hunter's Fountain), the Free State has nothing to distract its ambition from the growing of cereals and the raising of sheep and cattle. Farms thousands of acres in extent abound, the one on which Cronje made his last stand being 30,000 acres in extent.

In character, too, the Free State burghers differ from the Transvaal Boers. The former, being nearer to the civilization of the Cape Colony, have profited more or less thereby, and are moderately progressive. In religion, too, the Free Stater is more tolerant. The Transvaal Boer knows no church save the Dutch Reformed. The Free Staters, while mainly Lutherans, are to some extent Wesleyans and even Episcopalians—in fact, there are Roman Catholics among them. But whatever their respective creed, they are as devout as their Transvaal brethren.

NEWS OF THE RAIL

ROADS PUZZLED OVER THE ENCAMPMENT SITUATION.

CROWD CAUSES GUESSING

AS TO THE TIME WHEN IT WILL MOVE HOMEWARD.

TWO ENGINES IN THE CREEK

A WABASH TRAIN GOES DOWN IN ROGUE RIVER.

The encampment visitors to Chicago keep the railway men guessing as to when the bulk of them will start for home. The Pennsylvania and the Nickel Plate transportation officials have been prepared to put extra trains in service whenever there is a necessity for them, but so far the regular trains have been able to handle the business. The situation, however, is of a character to keep the railway men on the anxious seat, they not knowing what an hour may bring forth. The entire party of excursionists in Chicago may suddenly decide to move homeward at once and if done in a body, it will require several extra trains to handle them. It is this uncertainty that makes the situation anything but pleasant for the transportation officials. Travel westward continues heavy and all trains in that direction are well loaded. No. 15, on the Pittsburg, ran in two sections this morning.

THROUGH A DRAWBRIDGE.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 31.—Two Wabash locomotives and three freight cars of Wabash fast eastern freight train No. 90 plunged through an open drawbridge into the Rouge river at Delray at 6 a. m. today. The engine crews had remarkably narrow escapes and no one was injured.

The heavy train approached the bridge too rapidly to be controlled. The rule is to stop 100 yards from the bridge unless signalled otherwise. Engineers Wagner and McNab say that the signal indicated to come ahead. The bridge tender avers that the signal was set to stop.

The engineer and fireman of the head engine jumped off easily. The men on engine two narrowly got out through the tender gangway.

The bottom of the Rogue is very soft and the engines have sunk out of sight. The Wabash trains are passing over the Michigan Central, as the approach to the Wabash bridge is blocked.

BLACKSMITH HURT.

Blacksmith Frank Girard, of the Pittsburg shops, was the victim yesterday afternoon of an accident that will cause him to remain idle a week or two. A heavy bar of iron fell and in its descent scraped and bruised one of his legs in a most painful manner.

AFTER FORTY YEARS.

Among the visitors in the city yesterday was Boyd Dunbar, of Napoleon, O., a former member of company A, Sixty-eighth Ohio volunteers. Mr. Boyd had been attending the G. A. R. encampment at Chicago and on his return spent some time looking about the city and noting the changes that have occurred since his last visit to the city forty years previously. During his boyhood Mr. Dunbar was employed on the wood trains of the Wabash railroad, and frequently passed through this city, but until yesterday he had not seen Fort Wayne for more than two-score years.

THE SHOPMEN'S EXCURSION.

Notices were posted in the Wabash shops this morning to the effect that every department would be closed tomorrow. Present indications point to an immense crowd on the shopmen's excursion to Detroit. At noon today over 500 tickets had been sold. It is believed that nearly as many more will be sold this afternoon and tomorrow morning. Many of the shopmen will take their entire families and some are going to take a number of friends with them. Weather indications are favorable and a pleasant lake ride is promised the excursionists.

SOUTHERN PROSPERING.

The fiscal year ended June 30, 1900, has been the most profitable in the history of the Southern transportation companies. For the last few years the Southern railroads have been undergoing a process of transportation physically as well as financially. Some of the companies have followed out the policy of adding to their mileage, others have taken advantage of the easy money market to reduce the interest on their indebtedness, while all the more prominent corporations have been making extensive improvements in the way of new buildings, heavier rails and rolling stock and the substitution of metal for wooden bridges. The last few years have also been notable for the number of reorganizations which have been carried out, in which several southern systems have played a prominent part. Large amounts of new securities have been floated in connection with the reorganizations, and in several instances the practical rebuilding of lines was involved. The process of transformation has occupied a period of several years, and the new year ending June 30 last was really the first in which the earning capacity of the lines under the new conditions could be fairly demonstrated.

SUCCEEDS HUNTINGTON.

New York, Aug. 31.—The Mail and Express, which is generally believed to have accurate information concerning Vanderbilt plans, contains the following today:

"It is said in Wall street today that the presidency of the Southern Pacific railroad would be offered to President M. E. Ingalls, of the Big Four road, who is a Vanderbilt ally. No one could be found who would positively confirm or deny the Ingalls rumor, but it was declared with some show of authority that neither H. E. Huntington nor Mr. Tweed would succeed the late C. P. Huntington. These two, however, are provided for in the latest deal reported. Each is to retain his present position—Mr. Huntington as first vice president and active manager in the west and Mr. Tweed as second vice president and confidential attorney in this city.

"The selection of Mr. Ingalls would be another move in line with the alleged Vanderbilt plans to weave all the railroads of America into one vast system under a single head.

"The interests that are bringing the name of Mr. Ingalls to the front control a majority of the stock and could have dethroned C. P. Huntington at any time within the last few years, but they believed he had earned the position he held and declined to humiliate him.

"But he insisted upon putting all the profits into improvements, and those who did not, like him, have an abundance of the stocks that were dividend producing, were nettled at this absence of income from their investments of the stock of the road, whose value became purely speculative. Now, it is said, new blood is to be infused into the management through Mr. Ingalls."

A reporter of the Associated Press questioned C. H. Tweed, who was Mr. Huntington's confidential adviser, as to the various stories concerning the Southern Pacific's presidency.

"The directors will not meet until next week," said Mr. Tweed, "and while several names have been informally mentioned, I think, I am safe in saying no one has been decided upon definitely."

Thomas Telley, the veteran engineer on the Pittsburg, is taking a lay-off. The hot weather has had a debilitating effect upon him and he will not resume work until there is a change in the temperature. NEGRO DIES A LEGAL DEATH

WILLIAM BLACK HANGED IN MARYLAND.

Convicted of Criminally Assaulting a Little Girl, He Pays the Extreme Penalty.

Belaire, Md., Aug. 31.—William Black, colored, was hanged here at 7:41 o'clock this morning. He met death with considerable calmness, although he was plainly very nervous on his way to the scaffold and had for several days past been in a state bordering on complete collapse.

Black died for a criminal assault committed on Miss Jessie Bradford, a fifteen-year-old girl, who lived near Aberdeen, this county. The negro overpowered her in a patch of woods on February 21.

A searching party was organized and there is no doubt the negro would have been lynched if caught then, but he made his way to Baltimore, shipped on an oyster boat and was caught down the bay a few days later. His trial and conviction followed and he has been confined in the Baltimore city jail since then.

Meanwhile another negro, Louis Miller, was lynched in Belaire for a similar crime and threats were made that Black would never die a legal death. For this reason the sheriff of Hareford county took unusual precautions and a company of militia was detailed to attend the execution and preserve order. As a further precaution the announcement was made in the newspapers that the condemned man would be taken to Belaire on a morning train and hanged soon after 10 o'clock a. m. Instead of carrying out this program the sheriff put him on a train which reached here from Baltimore shortly after midnight last night and hanged him this morning before most of the people of Belaire were out of their beds.

CLOSING IN ON BOERS.

London, Aug. 31.—Lord Roberts, under date of Belfast, Aug. 29, reports to the war office as follows:

"Buller telegraphs from Helvetia that only a few of the enemy are there and that this morning French's and Pole-Carew's forces will move on their flank. The advance of Dundonald's mounted troops on their front caused them to abandon a very strong position. The country thus cleared, our troops moved eastward.

"The South African lighthorse, after little opposition, entered Watervalboven and drove the remnant of the enemy through the town.

"French's column reached Dornhoek, overlooking Watervalondor, with slight opposition. Dundonald, with Strathcona's horse, is further, near Nooit Gedacht. We have occupied Watervalboven and Watervalondor.

"Buller reports that Nooit Gedacht is apparently deserted except by British prisoners, who are passing in a continuous stream up the line towards Watervalondor. No Boers are visible. The natives report that Kruger and all the commandos left yesterday for Pilgrim's Rest.

"French reports the railway intact as far as Watervalondor, except for a small bridge near the station, which has been destroyed."

GIRL WILL TAKE THE STUMP.

Rockland, Me., Aug. 31.—Enthusiasm over the candidacy of her ideal statesman, William Jennings Bryan, and love of her father, Judge Charles K. Miller, who is a prominent candidate on the democratic ticket, has induced Miss Edith May Miller, of Camden, to take the stump as a political orator in the Knox county campaign. She is scarcely 18 years old and has taken all the prizes offered for orations at Bates college in the past two years. Miss Miller made her maiden political speech in Hope Center and men and women came from miles about to listen. On the platform she appeared at perfect ease and won great applause.

CYCLONE SWEEPS MAFEKING.

Mafeking, Aug. 31.—A cyclone that visited Mafeking last evening did more damage than the seven months' bombardment. It blew down or unroofed numerous buildings and leveled the military camp hospital, causing much suffering among the sick and wounded. One person was killed and two were injured, and there were many narrow escapes.

ATLANTIC KING'S SONS.

The get of Atlantic King, Centlivre Bros.' great sire, were in evidence at Providence, R. I., yesterday. Frank Bogash, the great pacer, who has contended with the fastest pacers for five years, won the 2:04 pace from Anaconda, Searchlight and Chehalis, reducing his record in the second heat to 2:03¾. He won the first heat in 2:04¼, tying his old record. The great pacer is now on edge and it would be no surprise to see him land the money in many more events to be contested between the animals before the season ends.

Harry O., another son of Atlantic King, started in the 2:10 pace and showed his gameness. He made it a dead heat in the second heat between himself and Courier-Journal, taking a new record of 2:06½. On Tuesday he was a starter in a race and finished within the money. It is seldom, indeed, that one hears of two sons of one great stallion taking new records below 2:07 in one day. Brown Hall, Director and Baron Wilkes are the only stallions known to have two sons or daughters in classes better than 2:07.

FILIPINOS STILL AGGRESIVE.

New York, Aug. 30.—A well known officer of the United States army and a graduate of West Point, writing to a friend from Nueva Caceres, Philippine islands, under date of July 2, 1900, said:

"The situation here shows no improvement, and in spite of reports to the contrary the fighting is still going on. What is happening in this province is a fair sample. There are about forty-five fairly good towns here of which the United States forces occupy only twenty. Having thirty companies of troops, this gives a garison on an average of a company and a half per military post. Most of the posts have but one company.

"When we do not garrison the insurgents either hold the town or domnate them, as theya re continuallly on the alert to attack towns poorly garrisoned. We are not able to attack large forces or to pursue them. If we should leave any town the insurgents would come in and punish those that have helped us. There have been have helped us. There have been about ten different detachments of the enemy living in the hills, once in awhile making a foray or attack. At present we hear many of these detachments have concentrated aggregating a force of 500 riflemen and 5,000 bolo men.

"We have to attack soon, as quick as we can get more troops. But that is not easy, as all over the island they are calling for re-enforcements. Further, the work of outpost duty, patroling and sentry is excesive and our men are not in good condition. The end of this is not in sight yet, nor is it easy to sugest a possible solution."

PARADE OF NATIONS

Forces of the Allies Promenade Through the Imperial Palace of China at Pekin.

PALACE CLOSED AND GUARDED

Washington, Aug. 30.—The state department makes public the following cablegram from Minister Conger, received this morning through the United States consul at Che Foo:

"From Che Foo, received August 30, 6:44 a. m.—Secretary of State, Washington, 30th, following dispatch dated yesterday:

"'More Russian, German, French and Italian troops arriving. Imperial palace will be entered August 28. Military promenade of all nations made through it—afterward closed and guarded. Prince Ching is expected in a few days—Conger.'

"Fowler."

The state department officials say Mr. Fowler's prefactory statement that Mr. Conger's dispatch is dated "yesterday" (August 29) probably refers to the Taku date line (it being necessary to send it through that place) on the message as received by him at Che Foo. They do not think it means that it was dated Pekin, August 29.

RUSSIA PROPOSES PEACE.

London, Aug. 30.—Diplomatic circles in London appear to be satisfied that Russia has either directly sent circular notes to the powers proposing the opening of peace negotiations or has reached an agreement with the United States in regard to the bases on which the government at Washington will take initiative action. Russia may prefer the latter arrangement on the ground that the United States has no entanglements, like Manchuria, calculated to rouse the suspicions of the powers. Nothing definite, however, seems to be known at the legations in London except Russia's great anxiety to end the prevailing conditions as speedily as possible, though the opinion is expressed that Russia believes, as a preliminary to the negotiations, that the allied forces should evacuate Pekin and retire with their resident ministers, Europeans and native Christians to Tien-Tsin, whence they can better treat with the most responsible Chinaman available.

It is pointed out that, though some governments are inclined to recognize Li Hung Chang's powers, there is a feeling in some quarters that it would be more satisfactory to all concerned and would carry more weight with the Chinese themselves could some representative prince belonging to the reigning dynasty be found with whom to arrange terms. If, however, Li Hung Chang can secure any kind of credentials from the dowager empress it seems to be the opinion that his authority will not be too closely scrutinized, except, possibly, by Germany, especially if Li Hung Chang can demonstrate that he has the support of the powerful southern viceroys.

JAPAN'S WANTON PRETEXT.

New York, Aug. 30.—A dispatch to the Herald from Hong Kong says:

The disturbed situation in Amoy has been created by Japan for the purpose of aggression.

For years Japan has covetously regarded Amoy and her opportunity has occurred. It was offered by a Japanese priest's house in the city being burned. The Chinese maintain that the priest saturated his house with kerosene and then charged them with arson.

A Japanese cruiser smartly landed men who are now policing Kulang-Hen and Amoy.

There has been no riot and trouble, but the Japanese claim that a large number of Japanese subjects require protection. These subjects are of the Chinese criminal classes who escape from justice and are registered in Formosa as Japanese subjects for a small fee.

ESCAPED FROM PEKIN.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 30.—Edwin Grifton, of New York, who has represented an American concern in China about ten years, passed through this city today en route from Pekin to New York. He was in Pekin at the time of the siege. With others, he says, he escaped by means of an old underground passage to a shack without the city walls.

"The passageway through which we escaped," said Mr. Grifton, "led from one of the altars in the temple. I could not say how many days we were going through that passage way with its innumerable doors. Our food was about gone when on the third day we came to an iron door fastened with enormous bolts.

"We had a hard time in breaking the door. After here, perhaps a mile further, we were made joyous by seeing signs of life."

Speaking of the situation in China, as indicated by the latest information, Mr. Grifton said:

"I think it will be a long time before any negotiations can be arrived at because of lack of co-operation on the part of the powers. The American soldiers are making a fine showing in the Orient. They are without question respected to a greater extent and more feared by the boxers than all the others combined."

CASUALTIES IN CHINA.

Washington, Aug. 30.—The war department this morning received the following casualty list, signed by General Chaffee:

"Tien-Tsin, Aug. 27.—Adjutant General, Washington: Following casualties occurred August 24: Private Tilet M. Anderson, company M, Fourteenth infantry, died from effects of shrapnel wounds; Wm. H. Waldron, second lieutenant, Ninth infantry, wounded in hand, slight.

"Chaffee."

Although this dispatch is signed by General Chaffee, it is not thought at the war department that it was sent by him, the impression being that one of his subordinates forwarded it in his name.

FOR CIVIL GOVERNMENT.

New York, Aug. 30.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: Arrangements have been practically perfected by the Taft commission for commencing its duties in connection with the establishment of civil governments in the Philippines. The commission will assume on September 1 all the functions which properly belong to the legislative branch of the government. It is not proposed that it shall be in supreme control. Major General MacArthur will be the executive of the islands and the commission will be co-ordinate with him, just as the executive and legislative branches in the United States are on the same plane. Civil government will not be established except in those towns where the military authorities are satisfied there is no danger of insurrection. The commission and the military will work together to propitiate the natives and induce them to return to their peaceful avocations. For the suppression of those insurgents who continue in arms, it is understood that active measures will be taken as soon as the dry season begins. General MacArthur will soon have a force of nearly 70,000 effective men who will be used to destroy the insurgent's organizations when operations can begin.

HEIR TO A SMALL FORTUNE

MISS MARY MORRIS, OF THIS CITY, WILL GET $9,000.

Miss Mary Morris, a waitress in the Randall hotel, received a letter from a firm of lawyers in Manchester, Eng., this morning, informing her of the death of an aunt, Mrs. Russell, of that city, which occurred recently, and by whose will Miss Morris becomes the heiress of a snug little fortune of $9,000.

Miss Morris has been in America for about seven years, coming here from Ireland, where her parents still reside. Her deceased aunt was a Miss Mary Morris before her marriage, and after whom the fortunate Miss Morris, of this city, is named. Mr. Russell, her uncle, who has been dead for a number of years, was one of the richest merchants of the great manufacturing city of Manchester and at his death left a large fortune to his widow. Mr. and Mrs. Russell were childless, and their estate, according to the provisions of the will, is to be divided among the nearer relatives.

Miss Morris' parents reside in Castlerea, Ireland, and she has one brother in this country, who resides in Logansport. Miss Morris has not decided as to whether she will return to the old country or not. She will probably do so, however, in order to establish her claim to the legacy and to attend to other matters of business.

LI HUNG CHANG.

China's greatest statesman and most experienced and wily diplomat and the Chinaman who knows most about foreign courts and peoples. Just now he is the center of interest in the diplomatic puzzle engaging the powers, and is being detained by the admirals of the allied fleets at Shanghai. The United States and Russia are agreed that Earl Li should not be detained and that he is the only diplomat in China today who is clothed with sufficient authority to negotiate peace between China and the great powers.

RASSIEUR CHOSEN

ST. LOUIS MAN NOW CHIEF OF GRAND ARMY OF REPUBLIC.

ELECTION WAS UNANIMOUS

GRACEFUL NOMINATING WORDS BY MAJOR WARNER.

OTHER NATIONAL OFFICERS

PROCEEDS OF THE LAST DAY OF ENCAMPMENT.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Judge Leo Rassieur, of St. Louis, was this morning elected by acclamation commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic for the ensuing year. There was no opposition and the election went through with a hurrah.

D. C. Milliken, of Maine, was chosen senior vice commander-in-chief, and Frank Semmons, of Tennessee, junior vice commander; John A. Wilkins, of Delta, Ohio, surgeon general; Rev. A. Dethems, of San Quintin, Cal., chaplain-in-chief.

There was no opposition to any of the candidates. The convention met pursuant to adjournment at 9 o'clock, sharp, and after some trifling matters of a routine nature had been disposed of, the selection of a commander-in-chief was in order.

Adjutant General Stewart announced that nominations were in order. It was known what the result would be, as there was no opposition to Judge Rassieur, and when Major Warner, of Kansas City, himself a past commander-in-chief, mounted the platform to present the name of Judge Rassieur he was greeted with prolonged applause.

MAJOR WARNER'S SPEECH.

He spoke in part as follows:

Commander-in-Chief and Comrades: Battles fought in liberty's cause go into song and story. Deeds of heroism are immortal. No more precious legacy was ever bequeathed by father to son than that bequeathed by the soldier of the republic who marched to the front at the call of him who "proclaimed a year of eternal jubilee to a race."

In the darkest hour of the civil war the men composing the union army and navy of '61 and '65 never despaired of the republic; their survivors who compose the Grand Army of the Republic in the day of the nation's greatest prosperity are not pessimistic. They do not view with alarm new questions that demand solution.

They have now, as then, confidence in the capacity and loyalty of this free people to settle all questions affecting our nation, whether at home or abroad, to the glory and honor of the republic. A comrade can have no more laudable ambition than to be commander-in-chief of this, the greatest of all civic organizations, an organization on whose roll of membership are found the names of the nation's most illustrious citizens and statesmen, an organization that demands that its commander-in-chief shall be a firm, fearless and unfaltering defender of the republic, of him who "hath borne the battle, and of his widow and his orphan," an organization that will make no mistake by electing as commander-in-chief Comrade Leo Rassieur, of Missouri.

Major Warner closed his address with a warm eulogy of Judge Rassieur as a soldier and a citizen and earnestly urged his election.

When the applause that greeted Major Warner's address had died away Past Commander Morrison, of Pennsylvania, made a short seconding speech in behalf of Judge Rassieur, and Adjutant General Stewart then asked if there were any more nominations to be made.

A motion was made that Judge Rassieur be declared elected by acclamation and it was carried with a roar of applause. The newly elected commander-in-chief was escorted to the platform and expressed his thanks for the honor done him by his comrades in a brief speech of acceptance.

NEW COMMANDER SPEAKS.

He spoke as follows:

Judge Leo Rassieur, on accepting the nomination, said:

Commander and Comrades of Thirty-fifth National Encampment—I am overwhelmed by the manner in which you have manifested your favor for me on this occasion. I would have to be untrue to myself if I did not realize that the compliment you have paid me has been tendered and will be accepted as a compliment to the department of Missouri, which has seen fit to make me its representative in asking for the high honor which has been received.

While I have no disposition to take your time for the purpose of outlining the work which is to be done during the next year; it does seem to me proper that I should say to you that all the ability which I possess shall be devoted to the work of this grand organization, in order that it may have an honest and reliable administration, so that every comrade may be heard in reference to any and every subject that he deems of importance to the national organization. I appreciate that in that way the best work can be performed. I also appreciate that in that way justice is to be done to the humblest member of our order. I appreciate that this election confers upon me an honor second to none that can be given in this country. It comes from an organization that represents those who served this country in its greatest peril. It represents those who were willing to sacrifice all that they had in this world in that that this nation might live and prosper. The past thirty-five years have shown the wonderful results that followed from the sacrifices made by those who have passed away.

I believe that we are still upon the threshold of a great destiny before us. However great the future may be, all will be owing to the old soldiers who fought that the country might be preserved one and indivisible.

It shall be my duty to have that fact brought home on every proper occasion, and as long as I have the voice to prevent its being lost sight of that voice shall urge upon our people the beauty of being just and generous to those who did so much for this country.

In the name of my own department and in my own name, I desire to thank you from the bottom of my heart for what you have done this day; and may the end of this administration and the work done during the coming year justify you and lend you to say that this day's work is not to be regretted and is well done.

The election of the junior officers of the organization was quickly over, but one name being presented for each position, and the candidate in every instance was seated by acclamation.

Following the election, delegations from the various affiliated societies were received and a miniature love-feast followed between them and the members of the larger organization.

REPORT ON PENSIONS.

The pensions report was adopted without discussion, it being understood that a determined effort will be made to induce congress to appoint a court of appeals to have final jurisdiction in matters relating to pensions.

The question of finances, temporarily postponed for the special order of the day, was again taken up and disposed of by the adoption of a motion to strike out the part providing for an increase of the per capita tax and making no changes in the present system.

The adjutant general's report was read and adopted without debate.

The report of the committee on military instruction was also read and adopted, recommending the sending of national flags to posts in Hawaii and the Philippines for the purpose of saluting and parades, and to increase familiarity with and respect for the flag.

It was announced that the organization was $8,000 in debt and the amount was promptly raised upon the floor of the hall.

The convention then took a recess until 2:30.

SKETCH OF JUDGE RASSIEUR.

Judge Leo Rassieur, who was today elected commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., was born in Baden, Alsace, Germany, in 1844. His people came to this country in 1849, settling in St. Louis. At the breaking out of the civil war, Leo Rassieur, who was seventeen years of age, enlisted as a private in the First Missouri. He steadily rose through the ranks, and at the end of the war held a major's brevet in the Thirtieth Missouri. Judge Rassieur has been a member of the St. Louis board of education five years and an attorney of the board ten years; has spent four years on the bench of the probate court of St. Louis, organized and served as president of the Western Riding club, the principal organization of its kind in the Mississippi valley and has built up one of the largest law practices in St. Louis, as well as becoming the city's most prominent citizens. He is a member of Frank P. Blair post, G. A. R.

ARE IN FULL ACCORD

HE MUST NEGOTIATE A PEACE

Washington, Aug. 30.—The course of the United States in the pending Chinese negotiations was made more clear today by an important note, embodying a communication from Russia and advising the powers of the action taken by this government. The Russian declared the interdiction of Li Hung Chang's communication with the Chinese government was "inexplicable" and asked that the powers direct their commanders to vacate the order.

The United States concurs with the position of Russia, and informs the powers that instructions have been sent to our representative in China in the spirit of the Russian note.

TEXT OF THE BULLETIN.

Following is the official text of the communication:

"Telegram sent to the representatives of the United States in Berlin, Vienna, Paris, London, Rome, Tokio and St. Petersburg:

"Department of State, Washington, Aug. 24, 1900.—The following note was received by us from the Charge of the Russian government at this capital, August 17:

"'I have just received a communication from the imperial government informing me of the resolution of the admirals of the allied fleets interdicting the plenipotentiary of the Chinese government, Li Hung Chang, from all communication with the Chinese authorities in the event of his arrival at Taku.

"'This resolution being inexplicable, in view of the fact that all powers have recognized the utility of admitting his (Li Hung Chang's) services, in the eventual negotiations for peace and especially because it would be impossible for him to fulfill his mission in the character of Chinese plenipotentiary if this were done, it would be desirable that the interested governments should give orders to countermand the above mentioned decision.'

"Inquiry of Admiral Remey, commanding our fleet at Taku, was first answered that no such resolution had been adopted. He now cables that the admirals have agreed to write the dean of the legations at Pekin instructions in case Li Hung Chang should arrive at Taku, and meantime not to allow him to communicate with Chinese shore authorities. Remey dissented from last proposition.

"We take the same view expressed in the Russian note. In interests of peace and effective presentation of just demands of all powers against China, it seems important that the Chinese plenipotentiary should be able to communicate both with his own government and its military commandants, whose action will be necessary to any suspension of hostilities as required in my telegram to you of 22nd.

"Chinese minister here is without power or advices. Li Hung Chang is prima facie authorized by imperial decree to negotiate and is the only representative responsible authority in China so far as we are advised. We have instructed our representative in China in the spirit of the Russian note.

"Any misunderstanding or divergent action on the subject by the representatives of the powers in China would be unfortunate, and we would be glad to learn from other powers if there are reasons not known to us which in their judgment should lead to a view different from that which we take.

"You will communicate this to the minister of foreign affairs, awaiting early response. Adee,

"Acting Secretary of State."

TO WITHDRAW TROOPS.

The state department has dispatched its instructions to the United States diplomatic representatives abroad in conformity with the decision reached yesterday by the cabinet upon the Russian proposal to withdraw the troops in Pekin in order to allow the empress dowager and Emperor Kwang Tsu to return to the capital, to institute negotiations for a settlement with the powers.

All of these steps are matters of common agreement, so it was not possible for two of the nations concerned, Russia and the United States, to make agreements between themselves at this stage, at least, as it is necessary to advise each of the governments represented in China of the various propositions as they are branched.

OLD CONDITIONS STAND.

The instructions sent to our representatives recalls to their mind the conditions which the United States government already has laid down as the proper basis for the institution of negotiations for an amicable settlement. Some of these conditions have been met; the international column is in Pekin and the foreigners in that capital are safe for the time being. The remainder of the conditions, namely, those looking to the future protection of American interests, are yet to be complied with.

If arrangements can be made for their acceptance under proper guarantee for the performance, our government will withdraw its troops from Pekin in order to facilitate the negotiations for peace, and this assurance has been given to the Russian government along with the others.

CHINA MUST KEEP ORDER.

The Chinese government must guarantee its ability to prevent the spread of disorder to the other provinces and a recurrence of such disorders as have occurred.

It is not quite clear how the Russian government can guarantee these conditions but it is possible that it has some private means of knowing that the empress dowager stands ready to return to Pekin upon the withdrawal of the foreign troops from that capital.

If so, the Russian government also must be able to extort from the empress dowager or whatever remains of the Chinese government, some sort of undertaking which can be accepted by the United States as sufficient to show that the Chinese government will enter upon negotiations upon the described basis as soon as it returns to Pekin. By the dispatch of today's note our government has, for the time being, placed the responsibility for the next step upon the Russian government.

The state department yesterday sent specific instructions to Consul Wilcox to return to Hankow and resume his duties there, and to Consul Martin to return to Chin-Kiang. These officers were allowed to leave their posts during the first flurry of excitement, but it is now believed that they may resume their duties without personal danger.

Mr. Conger's cablegram, made public this morning, is of special interest because of his reference to the coming to Pekin of Prince Ching. In a recent dispatch Mr. Conger stated that several members of the tsung-li-yamen were in Pekin, and would soon appear publicly.

GOVERNMENT ASSEMBLING.

These facts indicate that there is gathering at Pekin a respectable fragment of the Chinese government, which may afford the basis sought by our government and that of Russia for peace negotiations. Prince Ching probably, by direction of the empress dowager, indicates that the imperial government is willing to sue for terms, with the real purpose of submission.

It is impossible to tell from Mr. Conger's dispatch when it was sent from Pekin, but his statement that the imperial palace was to be entered last Tuesday places its date very early in the week at least.

The Chinese minister left at 10 o'clock this morning for Cape May, where he will join his wife.

Before leaving he made a trip to the state department and was with Acting Secretary Adee for a few minutes. He said he had received nothing from China and had come in quest of information.

The minister displayed great interest in the pending diplomatic negotiations between the powers. He

ELOQUENT BURKE

FIRST SPEECH OF CAMPAIGN IS HEARD.

LARGE AUDIENCE OF VOTERS

HEARD ONE OF GREATEST POLITICAL SPEECHES.

LIBERAL APPLAUSE GIVEN THE GREAT ORATOR.

Hon. Frank B. Burke, of Indianapolis, last evening delivered the opening speech of the campaign against imperialism and government of the trusts and he was greeted by an audience that completely filled the lower floor of Saengerbund hall. Many stood in the rear of the room and a hundred or more sat in the gallery and listened attentively, although that portion of the building was almost suffocating. There were present farmers and workingmen, merchants and manufacturers, and all were captivated by the eloquence of the Hoosier who so ably pleaded freedom's cause. The warm weather had raised doubts in the minds of the campaign managers of the democratic party in Allen county, but long before the speech began Chairman Berghoff and Secretary Melching were wreathed in smiles and another leading democrat remarked that it was the most successful opening campaign meeting ever held in Fort Wayne. There was great interest displayed and time and again the big audience was carried away with Mr. Burke's eloquence and cheered to the echo his pleas for a government of the people, by the people and for the people. Hon. Allen Zollars was chairman of the meeting and introduced Mr. Burke in a few minutes' speech in which he outlined the battle that was being fought for the constitution and declaration of independence.

When he arose to speak Mr. Burke was given an ovation which probably encouraged him to one of the best efforts of his life. He said:

"When man emerged from the darkness of inexperience he saw the splendor of the universe. He saw the glory of the sun, moon and stars, the soil giving sustenance and support for his existence, and enabling him to propagate his species. He felt the tender season of summer and the rigor of winter. He noticed the harmony, the unity and sympathy of nature in repose, and stood terrified at it in action, and he asked, 'What caused all this?' From that time until the present it has been the practice of men to attribute all inexplicable things to an unknown, unseen, but appreciated power. He said that God was the creator, the first cause in nature.

"Then, after awhile, he saw another thing, called government. He saw a man sitting entrenched on a throne of power, exercising the prerogatives of life and death over his fellowmen. He studied this creature, and found he was the intellectual superior of few and the physical superior of none. And he asked, 'Where does this man, who came into the world as I did, get this power?' The man on the throne pointed upward and said, 'From God.'

"But men reasoned, discussed, thought, and gave the world the benefit of their conclusions in 1776 in this land of ours. They asserted and proclaimed that this theory of the derivation of power from God was a lie; that governments have no power save that which is conferred upon them by the people. Until this time no man in this country has been courageous enough to assail the declaration that governments derive their powers from the consent of the governed, until the year 1898."

He said there had always been a difference of opinion between philosophers and statesmen as to the ability of the people to exercise the proper vigilance, scrutiny and care necessary to promote justice and the security of personal rights. From the beginning of the government this difference had been manifested in the schools of Hamilton and Jefferson, but both statesmen admitted that whatever power government possessed came from the people and this fact had been declared in the declaration of independence. Not until 1898 had this doctrine been assailed. Since the American government had declared war upon the Filipinos, an alien nation fighting for liberty, such republican statesmen as Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Whitelaw Reid and William Dudley Foulke had traversed the country asserting that the declaration of independence did not mean what it said, and he quoted from a speech recently made by Mr. Foulke in which the republican orator had said that the declaration of independence had never been intended to be literally construed, but was only an ideal toward which this government would strive. They told the people that this government had other ends than those declared in the constitution; that it is the instrument of manifest destiny and the republican party was the trustee, under God, for the regeneration and civilization of the world. Mr. Burke ridiculed the idea that God would choose Hanna, McKinley and Beveridge as his trustees to regenerate and civilize the world. A locomotive would not run on a turnpike without destroying either itself or the road. A traction engine could not run on a railway track without soon becoming a wreck and obstructing the way. So it was with government. Divert it from the purposes for which it was organized and it was soon destroyed.

Mark Hanna had declared that the declaration of independence was an "academic illusion." There was a purpose in all this. An effort was being made to change our form of government and make it possible for the privileged few to maintain their control of the government, something they could not do should the power to govern be retained by the people. The republican speakers condemned the democrats because they did not approve of the McKinley tariff laws and the gold standard and offered that fact as a reason why it was impossible to have government by the consent of the governed. But the democratic party never denied the right of congress to make laws to govern the people under the constitution. Because the party did not believe in unjust legislation did not mean that the party opposes the enforcement of laws passed by congress. These arguments were offered by republican politicians to justify the administration's efforts to subjugate an alien nation. Where did the United States government get the power to go the auction blocks of degenerating monarchies and buy nations at $2 per head. Beveridge and Mark Hanna said: "We are the trustees of God." That was only a reiteration of the principles of the divine right of kings that our fathers shot from the country more than 100 years ago. Continuing, Mr. Burke said:

"'Trustees under God!' My countrymen, I believe in God and in the divinity of Jesus Christ. If I did not I could love the man for his sympathy for the people and I could love the charity of the doctrine He asserts. But as I do believe in God, I reject the damnable and hypocritical pretense that He has selected Mark Hanna and Beveridge as His trustees."

The speaker then discussed the sudden and wonderful changes that a few days or a few months had made in the attitude of President McKinley on important questions, recalling that as late as 1895 he delivered a silver speech which had never been equalled by Bryan. He also recalled the message sent to congress only last December in which he declared the "plain duty" of the United States toward Porto Rico and a few weeks later Congressman Robinson and other representatives had seen the president using his influence to have a law passed providing for a twenty-five cent tariff while his "plain duty" message had advocated free trade.

Mr. Burke handled the trusts without gloves and condemned the Tammany ice trust as much as any of the others, calling attention to the fact, however, that it only affected New York, while the Standard Oil trust, the sugar trust, the steel trust and the other monsters held within their clutches the people of the country. The republicans would talk only of the ice trust and say never a word about the monsters that today throttled the government. Democracy was not warring on wealth. The Rockefellers, the Vanderbilts, the Mortons could keep all they had and go. He did not believe that the people should break one pane of glass in their cheapest windows nor take a chip from the stones of their great mansions, but he did believe that they should loosen their grip on the government. He ridiculed the charge that because democrats appealed for the liberty of the Filipinos they were assailing the flag and offered an illustration printed in a republican paper as evidence of the ridiculousness of the claim. A negro about to steal two pullets was caught in the act by the owner of the chickens and turning his back toward the owner he pulled up his coat and on his pantaloons was a small American flag. "Don't you dare fire on the American flag," called the negro. The republican paper printed this cartoon to show the idiocy of the argument that a citizen could not discuss the policy of the government without assailing the flag. Mr. Burke read extracts from letters written by Maurice Thompson, Mr. Denby and Will E. English, and he riddled their statements with arguments that aroused the intense enthusiasm of his hearers.

Mr. Burke did not blame the soldiers for the battles they were waging against the Filipinos. The soldiers of the world were under the strictest discipline and must obey orders. They did not even have the privilege of the criminal—an appeal to the courts. The German citizens now residents in America knew what a government of solders meant and they would November next enter a strong protest against militarism in the United States. He made an eloquent plea for the independence of the Filipinos and asserted that the republicans told only the truth when they said that Mr. Bryan would make them free should he be elected. When the speaker referred to the struggling Boers in South Africa and how they, too, would welcome the success of the democratic party there were more rousing cheers from the audience.

In closing, Mr. Burke said:

"The republican orators have a great deal to say about the flag. My friends, when you see a republican during the campaign with a flag in his coat lapel, ask him what flag it is. Ask him whether it is the flag that Abraham Lincoln unfurled over four million freemen, or the flag that McKinley unfurled over slavery in Sulu. Ask him whether it's the flag that Brown, Scott and Ripley followed into Canada, or the flag that Neely and Rathbone followed into Cuba; the flag that Washington unfurled to fight against taxation without representation, or the flag that Allen unfurled in Porto Rico. Which flag, Mr. Republican, are you marching under? If your flag stands for slavery in Sulu, we'll haul it down. If your flag stands for taxation without representation, we'll haul it down. If it stands for peculation and robbery in Cuba, we'll haul it down. We are for the principles the flag stands for before the flag itself. When it sings the same song in China, in Russia, in the Philippines, in England, that it sings here, then it is our flag; the heritage of free and independent people; our flag because it stands for the dignity of American manhood and the virtue of American womanhood.

"But if it has changed its story; if the words of 'the Star Spangled Banner' lie; if it is no longer to all the world the emblem of liberty; if it no longer is to float over a land that has neither subject nor slave, then we will take it from the hands of America's enemies; from the hands of those who have befouled it with the stench of slavery and robbery, and on the 6th of next November we will wash it with our votes, and in a spirit of earnestness and patriotism, unfurl it anew as the emblem of liberty to all men and all nations, wherever it floats; a testimony of man's ability to govern himself. Then it will be the flag of America.

"We have now to take our choice—the republic of imperialism, or the republic of Bryan; the republic that throttles liberty or the republic that shakes thrones and crumbles aristocracy by its silent example, and carries light to those that sit in darkness. We must choose between them. On one side is empire and slavery, on the other justice and freedom. One is led by the apostle of war, and the other by the apostle of peace."

Mr. Burke's close was highly dramatic and the intenseness and earnestness of his manner thrilled the audience, and when he finished the applause was terrific. Throughout his speech there were times when the audience seemed to hang on his words, and then, suddenly some brilliant period would electrify the crowd and the applause would shake the building.

After the address Mr. Burke received congratulations from scores of people and he remarked that it was one of the best meetings he had ever addressed. Mr. Burke was the guest of S. B. Fleming at the Wayne club for an hour after the speech and there had a pleasant talk with a few Fort Wayne democrats. He visited about the city this morning and at 4:50 this afternoon went to Auburn, where he speaks tonight.

BOOMERS IN TOWN

LAFAYETTE SENDS A MONSTER DELEGATION.

SEVERAL HUNDRED IN LINE

THEY CAME TO ADVERTISE THE STREET FAIR.

TRAVEL IN A SPECIAL TRAIN

LEFT THIS AFTERNOON TO VISIT OTHER CITIES.

The second annual business men's carnival at Lafayette will be held September 24 to 29, and something like 400 enthusiastic citizens of that city came to Fort Wayne today to tell the folks about it.

The Lafayette people travel in style, and they arrived in a special train of seven coaches over the Wabash shortly before noon today. It was a "boomers" train, and its sole object in touring the country is to advertise the coming carnival. They can hardly fail to make a good impression, to, for the size of the delegation is notable and they made a parade of the principal streets while two bands vied with each other in producing exhilerating melody and energetic young men circulated literature advertising Lafayette's big event.

Heading the long procession as it swung down Calhoun street was a platoon of Fort Wayne police under Sergeant Stevens, acting as an escort to the visitors. Behind them came twenty of Lafayette's finest, in command of Superintendent Harrison, of that city, and along the line of march the Lafayette coppers executed some fancy evolutions that showed plainly the effect of careful drilling. Ohlsen's Lafayette band was next in line, and close behind them were the Uniformed Rank of Red Men from Lafayette, wearing the uniform of the Continental soldier. There were sixteen men in line in command of Capt. H. S. Saltzgaber.

By far the greater number of visitors marched in the delegation devoted to the private Lafayette citizen who was on hand simply to certify that the carnival is to be the greatest that has ever happened. There were more than 300 in this division, and midway down the ranks was the Street Railway band of Lafayette. At frequent intervals were stationed men carrying banners advertising the meeting, and as the procession moved along it secured the undivided attention of all who were in a point of vantage to see it. It moved down Calhoun street to Berry and east to the city hall, where most of the private citizens dropped out of ranks, and the bands combined and countermarched.

The police were the guests of Superintendent Gorsline and the local officers at dinner at the Wayne, the Red Men dined at the New Aveline, while the other visitors divided among the different hotels, every house receiving a share of the visitors.

The "boomers" left the city at 2 o'clock to continue their campaign of publicity, and before reaching home this evening will have paraded at Huntington, Wabash, Peru and Logansport.

CENTURY'S CYCLE COMPLETE

MRS. MARY RANK HAS LIVED ONE HUNDRED YEARS.

St. Joe Township Woman Celebrated a Remarkable Anniversary on Wednesday.

Surrounded by children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren to the number of nearly fifty, Mrs. Mary Rank, of St. Joe township, celebrated a remarkable anniversary Wednesday—the one hundredth anniversary of her birth

Two weeks ago The Sentinel noted the approach of this unusual event, and the pioneer home six miles north of this city was the scene of a most joyous gathering. None among the friends gathered there was in better spirits or entered more thoroughly into the enjoyment of the occasion than the venerable lady in whose honor it was held. At times, however, it was plain that her mind was dwelling in retrospect upon the days and scenes when the century was new.

Dinner was served beneath the orchard trees and soon after the meal was ended the venerable hostess retired for a brief afternoon nap. During the day many of the older citizens of St. Joe township called to offer congratulations. In response to the request of the younger people Mrs. Rank sang a number of the songs of her childhood days, and while her quavering voice finds it difficult to carry the air, she remembers the words of these songs almost perfectly.

Three children of the centenarian, Eli, Ezra and Miss Tamer Rank, were present at the celebration Wednesday, and among the others were Mr. and Mrs. McGrady, Miss Irene Laisure, Miss Anna Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Wambach and daughter Esther, Charles Rank, Frank Payne, J. W. Laisure, Miss Grace Mohl, Master Teddy Laisure, Miss Grace Payne, Master McKinley Payne, Mrs. Catherine Laisure, Dan C. Laisure, Miss Rose E. Kaylor, Mrs. Michael Houser, Miss Anna Gent, Mrs. Philip Wick, Mrs. Martha Duber, John Laisure, Mrs. Uriah Notestine, Mrs. Tillie McComb and children, Millie, Leona and Floyd, and Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Broom and daughters Jessie and Maud, and a number of others. Most of those mentioned are direct descendants of Mrs. Rank and several are relatives. Mr. Broom is a nephew and Mrs. Duber a niece. Both reside in this city.

MAY GO TO LAW FOR A MOTHER.

Laporte, Ind., Aug. 30.—Mrs. M. C. Cummins, a young woman of Miami county, this state, appealed to the state's attorney to bring action in the circuit court to establish her claim that Mrs. David Goss, of Union Mills, this county, is her mother. Mrs. Cummins says that until a year ago she had no reason to believe but that she was the daughter of a couple living at Peru, but after her marriage to Cummins it developed that she had been abandoned by her mother, who, under the name of Sheeley, had married David Goss, a wealthy farmer. Then began the year's search which solved the mystery. Mrs. Goss denies that she is the mother of Mrs. Cummins, and to establish the question of identity action will be begun in the circuit court.

VERDICT AGAINST PICKETING.

London, Aug. 30.—A verdict against picketing during strike was rendered today by Justice Farwell, of the high court of justice, who enjoined General Secretary Bell, of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, and Organizing Secretary Holmes from watching and besetting the Great Western railroad stations and approaches with the view of inducing non-unionists to refrain from taking the places of the Taff Vale railroad strikers.

Thus far in 1900 England has imported 12 per cent. less foreign grain than in 1899.

What Makes Home?

Home is made by the family. Without the love which comes with children there may be a house, but never a home, in the best meaning of the word. Many a house which was only four walls and a roof has been made a home by the agency of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Nature sets her face against childlessness and "Favorite Prescription" works with nature to remove the obstacles to maternity.

"I had been a sufferer from uterine trouble for about three years, having two miscarriages in that time and the doctors that I consulted said I would have to go through an operation before I could give birth to children," writes Mrs. Blanche E. Evans, of Persons, Luzerne Co., Pa., Box 41. "When about to give up in despair, I bought a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and after taking it felt better than I had for years. Felt improved before I had taken one-half bottle. After taking four and a half bottles I gave birth to a bright baby girl who is now four months old and has not had a day of sickness. She is as bright as can be. I cannot say too much in praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser a work for every woman is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper covered book or 31 stamps for cloth covered to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A PUNGENT FOOD DRINK

With the Taste of Coffee.

"Perhaps no one has suffered more from the use of coffee or failed oftener in the attempt to leave it off, than I have. Although I never drank more than half a cup at a time, it even then gave me a sour stomach and a whole catalogue of misery. This kept up for a long period and time and again I have resolved that I positively would drink no more coffee, but alas, the rest of the family used it, and, like the reformed drunkard who smells whisky and falls again, when I smelled coffee I could not resist it.

"Finally we came to try Postum Food Coffee and my trouble was over at once. There I had my favorite beverage,—a crisp, dark brown, rich coffee, with a fine pungent coffee taste, and yet with no sour stomach or nervous troubles after it. On the contrary, I have gained gradually in strength and sturdy health. All who have spoken to me about Postum agree that we have found it so, that the directions for making must be followed, and it must be boiled at least fifteen minutes, or more, and it also requires the addition of good cream. We have tried boiling it a few minutes when in a special hurry, but found it insipid and unsatisfactory, whereas by proper boiling, it is dark and rich, with a delightful flavor.

"Dr. McMillan of Sunbeam, Ill., said he had used Postum and found it to be just as good as coffee, and more healthful. He is an M. D. of fine standing. Mr. David Strong and sister have left off coffee and are using Postum. They find it much more healthful. Rev. W. T. Campbell, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian Church, of this city, says: 'You may say anything good that you wish, about Postum Food Coffee and I will substantiate it.' He was a very great lover of coffee and yet found it very injurious to his health. He now drinks Postum three times a day and the old troubles have disappeared.

"I shrink from having my name appear in public. The statement I have given you is truthful, and I hope will aid some people to discover that coffee is the cause of their aches and ills, and they are in a way to get rid of their troubles by leaving off coffee and taking up Postum Food Coffee."

This lady lives at Monmouth, Ill., and her name can be given by letter, upon application to the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., makers of Postum, at Battle Creek, Mich.

Mothers Friend. What is it? Much has been said and written about it but the half has not been told. It is a remedy which if used by expectant mothers robs the ordeal through which they all have to pass of an incredible amount of suffering and makes her recovery more rapid.

"If a price can be placed on pain, "Mother's Friend" is worth its weight in gold as an alleviator. My wife suffered more in ten minutes with either of her other two children than she did altogether with her last, having previously used four bottles of "Mother's Friend." It is a blessing to any expectant mother, says a customer."

A surprising instance of political devotion is the renomination, by the republicans of the Fourth Maine district, on Saturday, of Congressman Charles Addison Boutelle, notwithstanding the fact that he is at present an inmate of an asylum for the insane, undergoing treatment for the distressing malady of insanity. It is altogether probable that, despite his condition, he will be re-elected on September 10. It is true that Mr. Boutelle has a long and honorable record of service in congress, and that his renomination, in the face of his malady, is a graceful recognition of this service, but still, the act does not seem right or proper. The election to congress of a man known to be mentally incapacitated is wrong.

The genuine Englishman is not apt to see much good in other countries, peoples or conveniences of life, when the comparison might be disadvantageous to his own cherished ideas. But American comforts and devices now making their way over there are so conclusively proving their value, that the Britisher is not only rapidly assimilating them, but is doing it ungrudgingly. Two of our domestic alleviators of summer misery, ice cream soda water and the electric fan, strange as it may seem, are just beginning to become popular outside of some few places in London. In fact, this feeling of preference is so growing that the United States consul at Birmingham thinks there is a great future in England for trade in American electric fans and soda-water fountains.

A NATION OF 75,000,000.

The census authorities at Washington have advanced so far in compiling the returns received from the enumerators that the total population of the country can now be fixed with an approximation to exactness. A carefully prepared dispatch from the Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post says:

Of the 52,600 enumeration districts in the United States the census office has counted, in round numbers, 17,000 and finds their population to be 25,000,000. This would mean, on the law of averages, a total of about 77,000,000. But this will not be reached. It seems to be a census office rule that the general average of these enumeration districts tends to fall as the count proceeds, slightly, to be sure, but enough to modify results in the grand total. When 13,000 enumeration districts had been counted they gave a population which, if multiplied by four, would put the country's total at 78,000,000, which was the figure that enthusiastic estimators had long set upon for the census of 1900. The count has now proceeded far enough to make this figure out of the question, and also to make reasonably certain that the total will not be more than 75,000,000, although it will not fall very far below that figure. The reason it may fall below at all is that the census office, in cutting out the districts, intends to give those enumerators who have to walk over a good deal of territory a little less work to do. On the frontiers and in the very remote places this influence operates most strongly, and as a rule the returns from such places are among the last to be tabulated. Therefore, it may be put down as a settled fact that the population of the United States will not be more than 75,000,000. This is the inside opinion of the census office managers, but, being conjectural, has, of course, found no place in any official bulletin.

There are some interesting features to be observed even from a partial and hasty analysis of the returns thus far received. It appears that about thirty-three per cent. of the population of the United States is living in cities of 8,000 or more. This is an increase compared with 1890, when the ratio was twenty-nine per cent. In 1790, when the first census was taken, it was three per cent. These figures show that the tendency still is to crowd into the cities at the expense of the rural districts. But the ratio changes in the various localities. The east reports a percentage greatly above thirty-three, while the west and south are far below it. Immigration has not been as great during the past ten years as in several preceding decades and the population has been proportionately more largely increased by natural growth than by accessions from outside.

The figures presented are not disappointing to those who have given the subject careful thought, though some over-sanguine persons had predicted that the new census would show a population of 80,000,000 or more. As it is, the United States stands foremost among the great nations in the number of inhabitants. Here are the totals as furnished by the latest and most reliable authorities:

United States	75,000,000
Germany	52,000,000
Austria-Hungary	42,000,000
Japan	42,000,000
Great Britain	40,000,000
France	38,000,000
Italy	30,000,000

These are the figures only for the countries mentioned above. Most of them have colonies or dependencies which increase by many millions the total population recognizing their sovereignty. But the United States far surpasses all others in the number of people living at home and on its own immediate territory.

The growth of the country has been extraordinary. Here are the returns of the population in the United States for each decennial census, beginning with 1790:

1790	3,929,214
1800	5,308,483
1810	7,239,881
1820	9,633,822
1830	12,866,020
1840	17,069,453
1850	23,191,876
1860	31,443,321
1870	38,558,371
1880	50,155,783
1890	62,622,250
1900	75,000,000

No other country on earth can show a growth comparing with this. And in no other land are conditions so favorable to prosperity and happiness.

WARRANTS ISSUED

FOUR PERSONS ACCUSED OF ROBINSON MURDER.

OFFICERS HAVE A HOT CLUE

WIFE AND HER FATHER ARE HELD IN JAIL.

THE MUNCIE MURDER CASE

GENERAL NEWS OF THE STATE OF INDIANA.

Muncie, Aug. 30—Warrants charging Charles and Joseph Keating with the murder of Allen Robinson Monday evening have been issued.

Muncie officers, who were sent out in every direction have reported from West Madison, in Jay county, that the fugitives were hard pressed, having been surprised at the home of a relative north of Portland, and that the officers were but thirty minutes behind them. This report was corroborated by Patrolman Adam Deems, who returned from Portland later. The fugitives are apparently making for the Ohio line. The pursuit will be continued and it is expected to result in the capture of the men within a short time.

The funeral of Allen Robinson occurred yesterday and was attended by several hundred people. The widow, and her father, Patrick Keating, against whom charges of complicity in the murder of Robinson have been made, were in attendance. They were escorted from jail to the morgue by officers. The scene was a touching one. Mrs. Robinson fell across the bier and wept aloud. She cried piteously, saying: "We will meet in heaven." She was upon the point of swooning away when carried from the room by her brothers, Thomas and Michael, who were absent from home when the murder took place.

All cried like children, and Mrs. Robinson and father were escorted to the cemetery by officers. Incriminating evidence from the widow, which was anticipated by the officers, was not forthcoming. Warrants charging complicity in murder were read to Mrs. Robinson and Patrick Keating, her father. They have employed the law firm of Gregory, Silverburg & Lotz as their counsel, and are held without bond.

FAKE SPIRIT LETTERS.

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 30.—The widow of the late J. H. Hammer, of Springfield, Ky., and wealthy, yesterday had Miss Bessie Hollingsworth, a former domestic, arrested, charged with theft. Mrs. Hammer believes in spiritualism and the girl worked forged "medium" communications on her and succeeded in acquiring several hundred dollars' worth of diamonds, jewelry and other articles from her. One of the letters led Mrs. Hammer to believe something was wrong and she came here to see the girl. The women quarreled and the arrest followed. Others are alleged to be in conspirney and a sensational trial is promised.

REMAINING TWIN DEAD.

Portland, Ind., Aug. 30.—John McGriff, the surviving one of the famous McGriff twins, Richard having passed away over a year ago, died at the home of his son, in Geneva, Tuesday night, lacking but three days of being ninety-six years old. Had he lived until Friday he would have reached that age. He will be buried on his birthday in the little cemetery at Deerfield. John and Richard McGriff were born in Darke county, Ohio, August 31, 1804, later coming to Indiana, and were held in high esteem. The death of Richard was a deep blow to his brother, but he survived it until his worn-out body gave way. It was the custom for years to observe the birthday of the twins, who were said to be the oldest in the United States, by a gathering of all the relatives.

THE MOB GATHERED.

Bourbon, Ind., Aug. 30.—Charles Manning, an alleged horse thief, was returned to Tippecanoe yesterday, accused of stealing a valuable animal from J. Johnson, of that place. When he reached Tippecanoe a crowd of angry citizens gathered, and but for the prompt and heroic efforts by the officers, he would have been roughly handled. Manning admitted his guilt and was hurried off to jail for safe keeping.

SAW HER NAME IN PAPER.

Elkhart, Ind., Aug. 30.—Elkhart county commissioners received a request from a Union City man, who signs his name Z. A., for the privilege of marrying Miss Lucy Haven, an inmate of the county infirmary. She weighs 365 pounds. The suitor became effusive in his letter and indicated that his ideal was a woman of her build and complexion. He was required to deposit enough money in bank to insure her "keeping."

It has been ascertained that "Z. A." is Samuel Deete, an eccentric individual, whose mania for picking up old, discarded newspapers is responsible for the present romance. One day he chanced upon an item, telling how Miss Havens, who is reported to be a woman of great weight, had refused an offer of $25 per week and expenses to travel with a show as a fat woman, preferring to stay in the Laporte county infirmary as the more honorable of the two. This appeared strange to the eccentric Dr. Deeter, and he forthwith wrote to the county commissioners, offering his heart, hand and worldly possessions to Lucy in honorable marriage. Deeter is about sixty years old and enjoys sound, rugged health.

RACED DOWN STAIRWAY.

Logansport, Ind., Aug. 30.—Matthew Jones, a drayman, while assisting in placing a 1,000-pound safe on the second floor of a business room yesterday, was seriously injured by the safe falling on him. The rope and tackle with which the safe was being hoisted up the stairway broke, allowing the safe to fall. It was a race between Jones and the safe down the stairway. Jones tripped and the safe crashed down upon him. The fall of the safe was broken by heavy timbers that had been placed against it, otherwise Jones would have been killed. He was badly crushed and internally injured, although no bones were broken. He may die.

BOTH WERE DROWNED.

Decatur, Ind., Aug. 30.—A message was received here last night, announcing the tragic death of Harvey Schenck and son, of this county, which occurred at Duluth, Minn. They were walking across a bridge, when the boy stumbled and fell into the water. His father plunged in to rescue him, and both were drowned. Their bodies will reach this city tonight.

HOLINESS CAMP MEETING.

North Manchester, Ind., Aug. 30.—The camp meeting of the Holiness association is in progress, with much interest and large crowds. There are two large tents and fifty small ones on the camp grounds. Some of the tents are sheltering entire families that have traveled long distances to attend the services. Among the speakers present are: Rev. Mr. Harvey, of Illinois; Rev. Mr. Walker, of Greencastle, and Mrs. Ebbertson, of Iowa.

The northern Indiana synod of the Lutheran church will meet here October 2 and continue in session through the following Sunday.

A WEDDING TRIP TO INDIA.

Laporte, Ind., Aug. 30.—Rev. I. N. Grisso, pastor of the First Christian church of this city, has gone to Wabash county, to be absent for a week. The feature of his vacation will be the tying of the nuptial knot. September 5, for a couple who will immediately sail for India, where they will engage in the work of relief in that famine-stricken land. The bridegroom will be Rev. Adam Eby, a Baptist minister of Noble county, and Miss Alice King, of Wabash county, a relative of Rev. Mr. Grisso.

A SWARM OF TOADS.

Bourbon, Ind., Aug. 30.—While crickets have been a pest here as elsewhere, it is as nothing compared with the visitation of toads, which swarm on the streets after evening sets in. They are here by the thousands, covering the sidewalks, and they seem to be unusually large, due to gorging on crickets. No such a demonstration in numbers has ever been seen here before.

POPULAR WINONA

VISITORS REMAIN FOR THE AUTUMN SEASON.

SUMMER WORK IS FINISHED

BIBLE CONFERENCE FINALLY IS ENDED.

IMPROVEMENTS TO BE MADE

NEXT YEAR WILL SEE MANY NOTABLE CHANGES.

Winona Lake, Aug. 30.—At last the assembly season at Winona Lake has closed. It wound up yesterday with the last of the great Winona Bible conference. Although the literary program closed the middle of August, the religious conferences, which have since been in session here, have furnished much entertainment and instruction to the many thousand who have attended the meetings from all parts of the country. It has been a feast of two months on the best lectures, addresses, sermons and other attractions that could be secured.

This season has been a most successful one. At a meeting of the directors this morning it was shown that the gate receipts are fully 50 per cent. above those of last year, which broke all former records. The Bible conference was also the largest attended of any in the history of Winona—in fact, in the entire west.

August was the month of religious conference here. The first week there was held the annual Winona Sunday school institute, to which prominent Sunday school workers, about 200 strong, came from all parts of the country. Then came the great foreign mission conference, the ecumenical conference of the west, which drew from a similar field several hundred people interested in mission work. This convention was followed by the home mission conference, which was even more largely attended. This was a strong meeting, addressed by strong people. The Bible conference came next and finally, with a ten days' session. This was a great success this year. The leader, Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, formerly pastor of Wanamaker's church, Philadelphia, who now holds an important charge in New York city, is well satisfied with the attendance and interest.

Although the regular assembly season is now over, the park and grounds will be open till October 1 to accommodate the large number of people who expect to spend their outings here in September, the most beautiful of all months at Winona Lake. Fishing is then better than at any other season of the year and golf is certainly more enjoyable. The steamers and other water craft will be kept going, the hotels will remain open and all trains will stop here as usual. September is expected to be a big month here. Already several people have arrived who expect to be here the remainder of the season, and many others have written for accommodations.

Although several hundred people who came for the Bible conference, and many others who were here for the summer, have returned to their homes, there is yet quite a crowd here and new arrivals come in on every train. A directory of the park, which is not claimed to be complete, was issued yesterday by the Winona Assembly Daily Review, in its closing edition. By this compilation nearly 1,200 people were shown to be yet at Winona Lake.

The progressive Brethren of Dunkards began arriving today for their annual convention. Their first meeting will be held in the Auditorium tonight, and the sessions will continue daily until next Tuesday. About 500 are expected to be here.

The proposed winter school here in the Winona summer school building now seems to be a go. At a mass meeting of Winona assembly stockholders and Warsaw citizens yesterday it was unanimously agreed that the plan should be indorsed and promoted. The committee from Warsaw represented that the city and Kosciusko county were favorable to the plan of raising the 2 per cent. tax, the privilege of raising which was granted by the legislature two years ago, in order to raise the $50,000 endowment for the building, which would be added to by $50,000 from the assembly. A petition will be started soon in order to secure a vote of the citizens. It is the plan to make this a preparatory school for boys. Agricultural and manual training will be carried, besides the regular normal course. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, the donor of the Moody Memorial home, for which he is giving the proceeds of his "Life of Evangelist Moody," has announced that the building in winter will be used as a preparatory school for boys' study for missionary work. The school will be opened this fall.

Numerous improvements will be made between the Winona hotel and the railway station. The station will be converted into a park and flower garden, and the main entrance to the Winona hotel will be made from the station side. The dining room, kitchen and office will be exactly double in size in order to accommodate the increasing crowds that flock to this famous hostelry each season.

A canal will be cut from the lake to the railway station and launches will meet passengers for the Inn and lower part of the grounds. Several new launches and steamers will be added and new automobiles will be added to the attractions of the place.

The new Winona-Chautauqua Reading Circle, which was recently conwinter's course October 1. This winter's work, as outlined, is much broader than usual.

Earl Ramsey, a student of the Indiana university biological station, was married yesterday to Miss Blanche Sleeper, of Warsaw. They will make their home in Muncie, where Mr. Ramsey will teach this winter.

found at Winona next summer. The cape, on which is the old athletic field, will be converted into an island, known as MacDonald island, named in honor of Alexander MacDonald, vice president of the Standard Oil company, who donated $5,000 with which to do the work. A canal eight feet wide will be dug, running from the Winona Beach bath house to near the Biological station bathing beach, a short distance below the Inn. A boulevard will be extended around the island, to connect with the other boulevards, and cottages will be built around it. In the center will be a small hotel, about which will be a small park, with cottages, in a circle, fronting upon it.

The island will be raised two feet and is expected to be the most desirable spot for cottages in the grounds. Already a number of lots are sold. Fully fifty cottages will be built about the grounds before next season, some of them being on Yarnelle point and Chicago hill. The strip of land

Will Steer You Straight to Health

One of the greatest drawbacks to those of limited means and large families is the oft recurring attacks of sickness. Thousands of instances are there, where sickness with its heavy demands on the purse of the unfortunates, keeps prosperity out of reach. Thousands of lives are sacrificed year in and year out, many constitutions are completely wrecked, and all because the average family does not regard with proper attention, the small ills. Wise persons watch carefully all symptoms of a disturbed system, and those who are prudent have a regulator laid by, ready for just such a condition of things. The only natural regulator, that will steer you straight to health and keep you there, is

Abbey's Effervescent Salt
"THE 'SALT' OF SALTS."

It is invigorating, cleans the tongue and mouth, and imparts a feeling of freshness to the entire system. A teaspoonful taken in a glass of water every morning will keep you in the best of health and spirits, and the system in a condition of insusceptibility to disease and disorders of the blood. Wherever it has been introduced the medical profession have endorsed it as an efficacious preventative of and cure for Indigestion, Biliousness, Loss of Appetite, Sleeplessness, Constipation and similar complaints. Abbey's Salt purifies the blood, clears the complexion and makes a most pleasant beverage at all times, taking the place of Soda, Seltzer and Mineral Waters.

D. WAGNER, M. D., says: "I have used Abbey's Salt recently in Nervous Prostration with Wakefulness, Headaches, etc., both of which were controlled by it. After much experience, I heartily recommend it to all physicians as one of our best and most reliable remedies. It has a place among my reliables."

A SCIENTIFIC MILL

JAMES CORBETT AND KID M'COY BATTLE TONIGHT.

ODDS ON THE EX-CHAMPION

M'COY SAYS HE THINKS HE WILL WIN.

BOTH IN ROYAL CONDITION

CORBETT HAS A WEE TWINGE OF RHEUMATISM.

New York, Aug. 30.—What is likely to prove one of the most scientific contests ever seen in this country and the last fight in New York under the Horton law will take place in the arena of the Twentieth Century Athletic club, Madison Square Garden, in this city tonight. The contestants will be James J. Corbett, former champion heavyweight, and "Kid" McCoy. The men are scheduled to box twenty-five rounds, Marquis of Queensbury rules, for 50 per cent. of the gross receipts.

McCoy, who has been doing his training in Saratoga, arrived in this city this morning. He appears to be in excellent shape and when asked about tonight's fight confined his answer to the few words, "I think I'll win."

McCoy will take a brisk walk today and afterwards a long sleep before going in the ring tonight.

Corbett, who has been getting himself into condition at Bath Beach, also appears to be in excellent form. He was up at his usual hour this morning and went through light, simple exercises. According to prearranged plans he will start for New York at noon and put up at a hotel until he starts for the scene of the contest.

The betting on the fight at the present time is comparatively light. The few wagers recorded show Corbett a 10 to 7 favorite. The men are expected to enter the ring at 9:30.

At a late hour last night the betting was 10 to 8 that Corbett will beat McCoy. Very few bets were made, however, as most of the big bettors, who favor Corbett want to get a look at McCoy before placing their money.

Several bets of even money were made during the day, but when the Corbett admirers came up town last night to bet their money at evens there were no takers. The rush of Corbett money was so great that the Corbett bettors were asked to put up 10 to 8. Later 10 to 7 was the only price that the McCoy contingent would talk business.

Many of the well known followers of prize fights say that they do not know who to bet on. Al Smith said he could not pick the winner.

"To me it looks like a toss-up," he added.

"Honest John" Kelly said: "I will hold on to my money until I see the man in the ring."

James Wakely is in doubt, but the chances are that he will back Corbett if he can get even money.

George Considine wants to back Corbett to the extent of about $2,300. He intends to hold out for the best possible figures.

Many of the out of town sporting men arrived last evening and attended the Sullivan benefit. A train load of Chicago and Cincinnati men arrived this morning. James Colwell headed a big Boston delegation that arrived last evening.

Corbett said today that he had a touch of rheumatism in the right leg. His seconds applied a strong liniment and Corbett said he would be all right in time for the fight, but that he would go into the ring anyhow.

At 2 p. m. Corbett said the stiffness in his leg had entirely disappeared and that he was in perfect health. He would enter the ring in splendid condition, he said.

McCoy arrived from Saratoga this morning. He looked the picture of health and showed signs of careful training.

CHARGES AGAINST WEIK.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—Jesse W. Weick, friend and biographer of Abraham Lincoln, and one of the prominent republicans of Indiana, is charged with illegally using a postoffice inspector's railway pass. Weik jumped from a train Tuesday while on the way to Indianapolis, and his sensational action was not explained till yesterday. Postoffice Inspector Owen has been watching him for a week, and Tuesday saw him present an inspector's pass to the conductor, claiming to be an inspector. Owen introduced himself and then went to find the conductor to have him take up the pass. When he returned Weik had jumped from the train, injuring himself seriously. The detective returned to Greencastle, Weik's home, where he is waiting till Weik improves to bring him here. In 1884 Weik was a postoffice inspector, and the pass he had been using was obtained then. His friends are using strong influence at Washington to have the case dropped.

NOTED PRELATES TO RETURN.

Washington, Aug. 30.—Advices received here today from Europe indicate that Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul; Archbishop Kane, of St. Louis, and Archbishop Keane, of Dubuque, Iowa, will return here in ample time to attend the annual meeting of the Catholic university trustees early in the autumn. All the members of the board of managers except Dr. Chapelle are expected to take part in the coming meeting. The latter is now at Manila as apostolic delegate to the Philippines, but designs visiting Rome in October to make his report concerning religious affairs there to the pope. Coincident with this meeting of the university trustees, it is understood that there will be a general meeting also of the heads of the American heiarchy under Cardinal Gibbons' direction. All of the archbishops in the United States, save those of New Orleans and San Francisco, probably will attend the general meeting, as questions of importance are to be considered. It is learned from a pastor here that one of these questions may be the advisability of convoking a plenary council at Baltimore in the near future. Bishop Glennon, of Kansas City, Mo., who recently saw the Roman authorities, wrote to a friend here that they anticipate a council soon.

NOTED MAN'S TRAGIC DEATH.

Philadelphia, Aug. 30.—Thomas J. Powers, commissioner of banking for Pennsylvania, was killed by falling from a train in the outskirts of this city last night. His badly mangled body was found under the Pennsylvania railroad bridge spanning the Delaware river at the northern end of this city this morning by three men gunning in the marshes. Mr. Powers had been spending the summer at Atlantic City with his family and it is presumed that he fell from the train from that resort which reaches this city via the bridge route at 10:30 p. m. Mr. Powers was a man of heroic build, measuring considerably over six feet in height and weighing about 275 pounds. His friends express the theory that he had gone to the platform to escape the heat in the car and was jolted off while the train was on a curve. Mr. Powers was fifty-five years old. He was a conspicuous figure at republican national conventions and was one of the 306 delegates who held out for a third term for President Grant. One of his sons, Lieut. Thomas J. Powers, jr., is in the regular army at Manila.

A woman whose name could not be learned fainted this morning in front of the Greatest Grocery, on Columbia street, where she was making some purchases. She was carried into the store, where she revived, and was later taken home in a carriage.

BANDITS ROB A TRAIN.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 30.—The Union Pacific passenger train, second section of No. 3, was held up by bandits two and a half miles west of Tipton station, fifty-eight miles west of Rawlins, last night at 8:30 o'clock. There were four men in the hold-up. The express and baggage car were blown open and the safe blown to pieces. The railroad company says the loss was nominal. The baggage and express cars were considerably damaged. United States Marshal Hadsell, who was notified at Rawlins, raised a posse of twenty-five men, with horses, and went on a special train to the scene of the hold-up and are now on the trail of the bandits. No one was injured on the train. The Union Pacific offers $1,000 reward for each man.

TALK TO LAWYERS

GEORGE R. PECK DELIVERS ADDRESS TO AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION

DISCUSSES THE MARCH OF THE CONSTITUTION.

PROGRESS OF ORGANIC LAW

A REVIEW OF GREAT LEGAL ISSUES SOLVED.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 30.—At today's session of the twenty-third annual meeting of the American Bar association the annual address was delivered by George R. Peck, of Chicago, Ill., who spoke on "The March of the Constitution." He said in part:

"The federal constitution was a great creative work, a new departure.

"In a general way, it may be said that a constitution is the system or body of fundamental principles, written or unwritten, under which a nation, state or body politic is formed or governed.

"Well did Tennyson describe the process by which the British constitution was evolved, when he wrote:

"'A land of old and just renown
Where freedom broadens slowly down
From precedent to precedent.'

"But the British constitution could not suffice when the American people proposed to embark upon a career of separate nationality.

"Never did men face a graver responsibility than did those who undertook to bring order out of the chaos which then enveloped them.

"The lofty enumeration of their purposes in the preamble of the constitution was itself a solemn judgment upon the articles of confederation, which, indeed, all men knew were altogether inadequate for holding the fruits of their struggle for independence.

"What order of men they were who framed our constitution is shown in the light of a historical contrast which is full of dramatic interest. France was in trouble—a trouble more serious than any which ever before confronted an existing order of things.

"On the very day that George Washington was elected president of the convention the great assembly of the notables adjourned. They had sat two months and utterly failed to do anything which could save France. Then came another meeting of the notables and of the states general, the national assembly, the constituent assembly, and that fruitless and utterly abortive effort to make a constitution which should save the king's crown and the people's rights.

"This attempt at constitution-making failed for it could not rally to its support any faith in its inherent strength. It simply collapsed when put to the pitiless test of those pitiless times. Great hopes had been centered in it hopes of deliverance, hopes of happiness and hopes of peace; but Carlyle sums up the result in a single sentence, which he makes the heading for one of his grandly picturesque chapters: 'Constitution Will Not March.'

"But, gentlemen, the constitution our fathers made had the marching quality in it; and our history records how it has marched in good and evil days, sometimes through perils and difficulties, sometimes seeming almost ready to halt, but always moving forward.

"Franklin urged the members of the convention to sink their personal objections for the sake of the great issue at stake. 'Thus I consent, sir, to this constitution,' he said, 'because I expect no better and because I am not sure that it is not the best. The opinions I have had of its errors I sacrifice to the public good.'

"It was the result of a large number of compromises.

"As has been truly said, 'Nobody liked all its provisions, and everybody feared some of them.' Its adoption was a great, wise and patriotic act; for statesmanship is not the obstinate reaching out for the unattainable, but the acceptance of the best that is within reach. It was the profound recognition of this truth that secured its adoption, without the provisions soon afterward adopted in the first ten amendments, the absence of which in the original draft caused so much opposition.

"Many great causes have been wrecked by the unyielding opposition of narrow minds, seeing only a single point, that may or may not be correct, but which is as nothing compared with the issue involved. Such minds there were, and have been always, who, honestly believing that human wisdom is centered in them, cling fast to the things which are petty and insignificant, and sacrifice those which are of supreme value. But the constitution was adopted; and those who had opposed it were loud in their prophecies of failure; and its friends could only admit frankly that it was an experiment which must wait the test of time.

"There was little business for the supreme court in the eleven years which preceded the appointment of Marshall; only six constitutional cases were decided.

"Thus far the constitution had marched; but it must be admitted its pathway had not been a smooth one. The people soon learned that the supreme court was a body claiming enormous powers—powers that thousands of good men viewed with sincere alarm."

Mr. Peck then went on some length with citations of various great legal issues which from the time of Chief Justice Marshall down to the great controversies that sprang from the amendments to the constitution after the civil war had through the instrumentality of the supreme court given vital and organic interpretations and applications to the federal constitution, showing the "march" of the fundamental instrument of government. In conclusion he said:

"In the complex workings of modern civilization, large fortunes have been rapidly accumulated, and great wealth has been centered in few hands. People naturally ask: Would a just order of social and economic relations permit this to happen? Whatever the true answer may be to this inquiry, no one can doubt that the well-being of our people depends upon maintaining sacredly the equal rights guaranteed by the fifth and fourteenth amendments to rich and poor alike. Property, because it is most easy of attack, is most frequently attacked. This is no new illustration of human nature, but is a part of the phenomena of all history.

"In English history, as in our own, most of the great questions which mark the progress of legal rights have grown out of small property disputes. Men have invariably been more ready to engage in litigation over concrete questions than to go to law about abstract principles.

"It was such a suit that gave us the great pronouncement upon the nature of our government. 'The constitution, in all its provisions, looks,' said Chief Justice Chase, 'to an indestructible union, composed of indestructible states.'

"Throughout our constitutional history we have carried on the most complex system of government known to man; and today I venture to assert that, notwithstanding its complexity, it has been so administered as to combine more of liberty to the citizen with more of power in the nation than any other constitutional government. The states, unimpaired in their just powers, carry on the due operations of local administration unfettered; and the union—which is a union both of people and of states—has long since passed the time when any court or any statesman may renew Justice Wilson's inquiry: 'Do the people of the United States form a nation?'"

DR. G. C. STEMEN HOME.

Dr. G. C. Stemen arrived in the city this morning from an outing of five weeks in Colorado, where Mrs. Stemen and the children have been spending some months for the benefit of the former's health. Dr. Stemen says Mrs. Stemen is constantly improving, and expects to spend the next summer in Fort Wayne. Dr. Stemen says the report that he would remove to Colorado is erroneous. He has no intention of leaving this city.

INSURANCE MEN MEET.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 30.—The fifth annual convention of the National Association of Local Fire Insurance Agents met here today. President Woodworth called the convention to order. There were 200 delegates present. Thomas H. Geer, of Cleveland, responded to an address of welcome from the city officials. E. W. Wilson, of Utah, introduced a resolution as follows: "That the National association request of the presidents of each state a complete list of all fire companies offering or writing business at cut rates, the list to be furnished on the first days of October, January, April and July of each year, and that the same be published and sent to all members." The resolution was greeted with applause and referred to the committee on resolutions with debate. President Woodworth then delivered his annual address.

MR. HAY NOT SERIOUSLY ILL.

Washington, Aug. 30.—The alarming reports concerning Secretary of State Hay's condition receive no credence in Washington. Secretary Hay is in almost daily communication with the president and state department and the advices received from him indicate that he is constantly improving.

NEGOTIATIONS HALT.

His absence from the city at this time was taken as further evidence that there is a halt in negotiations so far as the Chinese officials are concerned. The minister was quite anxious that his departure for Cape May should not be made known, and for that reason he left no word as to how long he would stay at the seashore.

The Russian charge d'affaires, M. De Wollant, also is at Cape May and in view of the part Russia is taking in the present negotiations there is a possibility that the minister and the Russian charge may confer.

Jones to take charge of the eastern headquarters of the national committee, arrived here today. Committeeman Campau said that his visit here was for the purpose of securing offices.

BIG CLAIMS FOR DAMAGES.

New York, Aug. 30.—Claims against the city for injuries received by colored persons in the recent riots filed in the controller's office now aggregate $260,000.

It is estimated that the number of Americans in Paris is not less than 75,000, of which 35,000 are living in apartments and 40,000 are transients. They spend at least 1,500,000 francs ($300,000) per day in the French capital.

There are very few Chinese in England—only 767 all told, according to the latest enumeration. Yet only three counties are wholly without Chinamen—Hereford, Rutland and Westmoreland.

Mud-skippers may be seen lying in hundreds along the edge of the Burmere rivers. When disturbed they spring back, not into the water, but inland among the trees.

A motor car has been designed for towing canalboats. At a recent trial it towed a heavily-laden barge at the rate of three miles an hour with the greatest ease.

The Wheeling Stogies yesterday got credit for two more victories over the Fort Waynes. The first game was won after an exciting contest in which Pardee outpitched Harper, who has been Fort Waynes losing pitcher for a month. Ream was not in the game and "Doggie" Miller played second bag and put a Wheeling amateur in the outfield. The Wheeling management had advertised a double-header, but Secretary Hubbard would not permit two games to be played, contending that the schedule provided for twenty-one games instead of twenty and there was a conflict. As there had been a game postponed from the first trip of the team to Stogieton and this is the last to be made this season the umpire could be governed only by the schedule and rightly awarded the game to Wheeling. According to league rules the Fort Wayne management is subject to a fine of $100 for refusing to play the game. Score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "The McGraw-Heilbronner regime seems to be a success, and since 'Muggsy' and 'Loole' have been running things the team has been playing the fast article of ball that it should have all season. By making it four out of five over Chicago yesterday it moved to a tie with Cincinnati for sixth place. If it can bawl Loftus' crew over again today it can jump up to fifth position." Then, as the teams stand now, Boston fourth in line, is but two games to the good of the Cardinals, and Philadelphia, No. 3, but three games in advance. A continuance of the present speedy play by the locals means a position in select company ere the end of the week is reached."

ROTATION IN OFFICE FIXED

PYTHIANS FINALLY SETTLE THE ISSUE.

Test Vote on Supreme Chancellorship Results in Defeat of Thos. G. Sample—Prize Drills.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 30.—The supreme lodge Knights of Pythias today settled the question of whether rotation should be continued or the supreme officers re-elected for a second term.

The test was a vote on the election of supreme chancellor.

There were two candidates Thomas G. Sample, of Pennsylvania, the present supreme chancellor, and Ogden H. Fethers, of Janesville, Wis., supreme vice chancellor. There were seventeen seconding speeches made for Fethers; the Sample contingent were content to rest with the nominating address. The first ballot resulted in the election of Fethers by the vote of 88 to 59.

Contrary to the usual custom the election was not made unanimous, no motion being made to that effect. The other officers will be chosen at a later session.

San Francisco was selected for the next biennial gathering by acclamation. But one speech in favor of Asbury Park was made.

Ideal weather for drilling was had today for the Pythian prize military contests. On account of the large number of entries the drills were begun simultaneously at the Detroit Athletic club grounds and at Belle Isle park. At the athletic grounds the competitors of class A were put through their paces. The prizes in this class, which was open to all companies of the uniform rank, K. of P., are six in number. Amount of first prize, $1,500; second, $1,000; and $700, $500, $300 and $100, respectively.

The companies which competed in class A contests today were: John Burr Glenn, Wisconsin; Springfield, Ohio; Jeffersonville, Ind.; Vigo, Ind.; Coeur de Leon, Ohio. Several other companies will compete tomorrow and Saturday.

The class B prizes offered are $600, $400, $200 and $100. The contestants are limited to companies which have never won a prize. The entries are: Success, Indiana; E. C. Shaffer, New York; Los Angeles, Cal.

Companies under two years of age are eligible to the class C contests. Those entered are: "General Lawton, Illinois; Columbia, Indiana; Homestead, Pa.; Elwood, Ind.

A $500 prize for the best battalion drilling will be competed for Friday by battalions of the First Illinois and First Indiana regiments.

No announcement of percentages and winners is to be made till Saturday, the closing day of the encampment, when the prizes will be awarded.

All the new shapes in Dunlap Hats are now in at Golden's.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Disappointing cables from Liverpool caused easiness at the opening of the wheat market today. September opened ⅜c lower at 74¾c to 74⅜c and sold down to 74⅛c. THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 30.—Trading was quite active when the stock market opened today and good fractional gains in the internationals, some of the Steel stocks and the leading specialties gave a strong tone. Except for a gain of a point in Tobacco the changes were fractional. The demand for stocks was soon satisfied and the market, being unable to absorb the traders' offerings, gave way. Steel and Wire and National Steel preferred yielded a point and the leading Industrials a sharp fraction. Railroad stocks showed some resistance in spots, but their main trend was downward. The market lapsed into semi-stagnation at 11 o'clock.

Most of the business was in a few specialties, notably Steel and Wire and Brooklyn Transit, which ruled on a parity with yesterday's closing. Near midday Tin Plate common rose 1⅜ and the preferred 1¼. Continental Tobacco also gained a large fraction.

Bonds continued quiet and irregular.

FAIRBANKS FOR PRESIDENT.

Kansas City, Aug. 30.—A Star special from Topeka, Kas., says: "It is the talk of republican circles here that Senator Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana, is a candidate for president to succeed McKinley four years from now, and that his western trip next month is for no other purpose than to make acquaintances and to push his boom into view. While he speaks under the auspices of the national committee his itinerary is wholly his own.

"He wants to begin in Kansas and end in Nebraska. He will go to Kansas September 7 and 8, Colorado September 10, Utah the 12th, California the 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th, Oregon the 18th, Washington the 19th, 20th and 21st, Montana the 22d, North Dakota the 24th and 25th, South Dakota the 26th and 27th, Nebraska the 28th and 29th.

BICYCLE MAN DIES.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Word was received here today of the death at Montreal last night of R. Philip Gormully, president of the Gormully & Jeffrey company and Venezuelan consul at Chicago.

STILL FALLS SHORT.

Accommodations for the delegates and visitors who will attend the national encampment of the Union Veteran Legion in this city September 11 to 14, so far as reported, are yet inadequate to meet the needs of the crowds expected, and Mrs. Edsall, chairman of the ladies' committee which has been soliciting the accommodations, desires that every member of her committee report at once to Secretary Aldrich, at the Arcade headquarters, stating the accommodations secured.

The general committee was in session last evening and heard reports from many sub-committees. All the work is going forward at an encouraging rate and by the time the first delegation reaches the city everything will be in readiness to receive the old veterans in comfort and to do them the honor their valor has honestly earned.

Mrs. C. W. Fulton is at Chicago for a few days' visit.

HAS BIG INTEREST IN MINES

HON. S. S. SHUTT, A FORT WAYNE VISITOR.

Believes That the Greatest Gold Mines Will Be Uncovered in Georgia.

Hon. Samuel S. Shutt, of Spencerville, DeKalb county, was registered at the Randall hotel today. Mr. Shutt is one of the most experienced miners in Indiana and has many interests in western gold mines. He talked entertainingly to a Sentinel reporter this morning about the mines near Dahlonega, Limpkin county, Georgia. He said:

"I invested in the Georgia mines last October and have twice visited them, the last time in June of this year. Although my investments are large I would not now take for them less than three times the amount I invested. I have had much experience with western mines and lost thousands of dollars there. I was never disappointed, though, after visiting the places where my money was invested, because it was easy to see that speculators were after money. It is entirely different in Georgia. My visits there convinced me that the mines would some day be the greatest in the world. There are the finest outcroppings and the largest veins and the gold is of the very best quality. Veins run from 20 to 300 feet wide and the deeper you go down the more gold is found. At present the mines have hardly commenced to be worked, although it was known before the civil war that gold existed in abundance. The war and the gold craze in California captured the miners and the Georgia mines were abandoned. The rivers are full of gold and dredges are bringing out daily paying quantities. My advice is for Fort Wayne capitalists to visit the country and they will realize that there is no better mining investments on earth."

Dick Townsend will take a party to Georgia Saturday evening, leaving over the G. R. & I. at noon.

Mr. Neidhart and daughter are members of the congregation formerly served by Rev. L. J. Motschman. They made a very pleasant call upon their former pastor and his wife, both of whom are held in high esteem by them. Mr. Neidhart is one of the largest marble dealers in the state of Nebraska. He was delighted with the marble work of the new court house, saying it was one of the finest public buildings he had ever seen.

HUNDREDS COMING

TO PARTICIPATE IN GERMAN DAY FESTIVITIES.

THE TRAINMEN'S EXCURSION

DEFICIENT IN NUMBER BUT REPLETE IN PLEASURE.

THE PENNSYLVANIA CHANGES

MR. SWEELEY AND MR. BEARDSLEY SENT EAST.

Fort Wayne is to be honored by an immense crowd of German citizens on Sunday, Sept. 16th. That date has been set aside as "German day" at the park and an effort is being made to make it one of the greatest events of the season. All the roads will make rates and some of them will run special trains into the city, among the number being the Lake Erie and Western, which will have two special trains and possibly three. One of these will start from Indianapolis and the other from Connorsville, and negotiations are pending for a special out of Cincinnati. The Germans usually turn out liberally and on this occasion they are expected to come here in vast throngs.

ANOTHER CHANGE.

The Pennsylvania company this morning announces another change in the mechanical department of the system. G. P. Sweeley is appointed master mechanic of the Eastern and Erie and Ashtabula divisions, with headquarters at Allegheny. He was formerly master mechanic of the Cleveland and Pittsburg division, located at Wellsville, and the change is in line of promotion. W. F. Beardsley has been appointed master mechanic of the eastern division, with headquarters at Crestline, succeeding Mr. Harris, who was promoted to the Wellsville office, as stated in The Sentinel yesterday. This, it is believed, completes the changes that will be made in this branch of the Pennsylvania company's service at present.

HAS BLOOD POISONING.

It will be painful news to the readers of these columns to learn that Frank Perry, the well known Grand Rapids and Indiana passenger engineer, is in a bad way physically. Several days ago he sustained an injury to one of his arms, which was dressed by a physician in one of the small towns along the line of that railway and blood poisoning has resulted. Dr. E. J. McOscar has taken the case and will soon have the popular engineer back in the cab.

TRAIN LOAD OF HARVESTERS.

A train of thirty-eight cars loaded with harvesting and other farm machinery passed through the city, over the Nickel Plate, yesterday afternoon en route to the Atlantic seaboard. The machinery came from the Acme Harvesting company, of Pekin, Il., and is billed to Buenos Ayers, South American.

MR. BOWDEN LEAVES CITY.

H. R. Bowden, whose transfer from this city to Bellevue, where he will have charge of the Nickel Plate yards, was mentioned in The Sentinel a week ago, went to that city last evening and will look over the field a day or two preparatory to assuming the duties of the office. William F. Watterson has complete charge of the yards in this city now and business there is moving along smoothly under his direction.

PETOSKEY EXCURSION.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana road handled a number of excursionists to Petoskey from off the southwestern system of the Pennsylvania lines today. There were sixty on train No. 7 this morning, this crowd coming from Anderson, Muncie and other cities in that vicinity, and train No. 5, which ran in two sections, had several hundred people, who came from Cincinnati, Louisville and Indianapolis and intermediate cities and towns. Besides being a number of coaches filled with excursionists in these two trains, there were nine extra sleepers.

TRAINMEN'S EXCURSION.

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen did not get the crowd on their Bawbees excursion, which left the city this morning, that they expected. Agent Liggett reports 215 tickets sold, which is about one-half the expected number. However, the shortage in ticket sales was more than made up in jollity and the management of the excursion is pretty well satisfied with the results. Another thing which adds to their satisfaction is the fact that a number of tickets were sold and not presented at the depot for exchange. The receipts from this source is a total gain and will swell the profits of the excursion to a very neat sum. The Wayne Tent band accompanied the excursionists. The train was in charge of Conductor Carrey with Engineer Figel in the cab.

SHOPMAN IN JAIL.

Frank Swartz, a Wabash shopman, has a few troubles of his own, according to the following clipped from the Huntington News-Democrat of August 28th date: "Frank Swartz, a shopman in the employ of the Wabash road, is on trial in mayor's court this afternoon. He is charged with deserting his wife, Elizabeth Swartz. They lived in this city and the complaint alleges that she was abandoned without provision being made for her needs. She was compelled to do laundry work for a living three weeks after becoming a mother. The case was continued until tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Swartz was taken to jail."

FIRED MILK AT BAGGAGEMAN.

A dispatch from Muncie, Ind., reads as follows: "Mrs. Richard Ferguson ("Grace Passmore") of the "McCarthy Mishaps" company, threw a bottle at a Fort Wayne, Cincinnati and Louisville baggageman here yesterday because her pet bull pup, which she had been compelled to put in his car at Hartford City, was killed by falling parcels en route to Muncie. The man dodged, and the bottle was shattered on the side of the car. Other thespians and railroad men intervened, and peace was restored. The company boarded the train at Hartford City, but the conductor refused to allow Mrs. Ferguson and another woman of the troupe to take their pets into the passenger coach. Mrs. Ferguson says her pet was worth $10, and she has filed a claim with the company. The bottle hurled at the baggageman was used to feed the dog, and was full of milk, which splashed over the trainmen in the car. Ferguson says he was astonished at his wife's poor aim, as she was once a crack base ball pitcher."

TWO TOES MASHED.

Henry Hilgeman, of the Bass blacksmith shop, will be unable to work for a few days, owing to an accident which befel him yesterday. A bar of iron dropped and mashed two toes of his left foot. Mr. Hilgeman is a member of Jacob Hausbach's crew of blacksmiths.

UNFORTUNATE UPHOLSTERER.

Paul Shenleine, an upholsterer employed in the Pittsburg shops, is suffering from an accident which happened last Sunday and which threatens to disable him for some time. While in his woodshed a hand saw fell from a nail in the rafter and in its descent struck and cut an ugly gash in Mr. Shenleine's right hand. In closing the wound the attending surgeon was compelled to make three stitches.

OLD SETTLERS' MEETING.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana company took over 800 people into Ridgeville today to attend the annual Old Settlers' meeting, which is being held in that town. The immensity of this business was entirely unlooked for and it tested the capacity of the road to handle it, in addition to other business where an unusual number of cars were needed. However, all who wished to go were provided with comfortable means of travel and there was no complaint on that score.

WABASH EXCURSION.

Up to the noon hour today 400 tickets for the Wabash shopmen's excursion to Detroit next Saturday had been sold, and only a part of the force had applied for them. The men are taking from three to twenty tickets each and at this rate the number will approximate 1,000. The company will provide accommodations for that number at least and it is quite likely that it will be needed. This is the cheapest excursion the company has yet made, the object not being to make money, but to give its employes a day's pleasure at a trifling cost. By the number of tickets required to supply the men, it is surmised that some of them are going to take friends with them who are not in anyway connected with the road. The fare to the general public is $1.50 for the round trip and to the shopmen and family $1.00 each.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

John Kress resumed his duties in the electric works this morning, after attending the encampment.

Mrs. Donahue, wife of the engine painter, has returned from Markle, Ind., where she spent several weeks with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Haskel have gone to Petoskey for a two weeks' sojourn. Mr. Haskel is night clerk at the east yards.

Claude Keplinger, of Canton, Ohio, will arrive in the city tomorrow and be the guest of his father and mother and brothers for a week.

C. Ball, W. F. Zollinger, H. C. Horstmann and J. H. Nyboer, car builders at the east shops, are off duty on account of sickness.

At the reunion of former employes of the Atlantic and Great Western, now the Erie, held at Kent, Ohio, on Saturday, over 2,000 were present.

Chief Engineer Wilgus confirms the report that the New York Central will spend $4,000,000 in improving the Weehawken terminal of the West Shore.

One year ago clerks of the railways and associations located in Buffalo formed a clerks' union, and out of 1,700 railroad clerks 1,252 are now members.

W. R. Johnson, master mechanic of the Lackawana's Pennsylvania's division, retires from that position on September 1. His successor has not yet been named.

Mr. William J. Beam, a machinist in the Pennsylvania shops at Altoona, is in the city visiting George Slater, a machinist in the local shops of the company.

A dynamo to Wills & Son, of Winamac, Ind., and an 80-light arc machine to Wheeling, W. Va., were among the shipments from the electric works this morning.

Engineer William Dexter is now running on Pennsylvania trains 15 and 22 between this city and Crestline, in place of H. D. Rose, who has gone west upon an extensive tour.

John H. Barrickman, of the Louisville and Nashville, and George Vallery, of the Burlington, traveling freight agents, were in the city today calling on local agents and shippers.

Vice President and General Manager Yonkum, of the St. Louis and San Francisco, announces that the Red River division of that road will be open for business to Henrietta, I. T., on September 1.

It is understood that the road now building out of St. Louis across Missouri, known as the St. Louis, Kansas City and Colorado, is to be utilized, when completed, by the Santa Fe as a line into St. Louis.

Trouble is brewing between the passenger conductors on the Canadian Pacific over some arbitrary orders that have been promulgated of late which, it is alleged, subject the conductors to uncalled for humiliation.

Engineer Martin Stafford, of the Pittsburg, has returned from his six week's trip through the Rocky mountains. He visited nearly every point of interest between Denver and Pueblo and Salt Lake City, and says he had a fine time.

Officials of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road are preparing to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the company. The half-century mark will be passed on February 25, 1901, and it has been decided that a fitting program must be arranged for the occasion.

Pittsburg Engineer M. R. Lacey is at Maxinkuckee, endeavoring to entice some of the bass that are supposed to abound in that body of water from their haunts. Mrs. Lacey accompanied her husband and while he fishes she will visit her relatives near the resort.

Charles Fording, a fireman, resumed his duties on the east Wabash local this morning, after a week's vacation, spent in Toledo. Harry Pierce, who was firing for Mr. Fording during the latter's absence, has returned to his work on a switch engine.

Charles A. Hans has taken a position in the blacksmith department of the electric works. Mr. Hans is "at home" at the forge, though it has been several years since he followed that occupation. He has been engaged for some time in the livery stable business.

Indianapolis Journal: "Air brake inspectors are numerous judging from the fact that William Garstang, superintendent of motive power of the Big Four, has had forty-two applications for the position which Mr. Hartman will vacate on September 1 to go with the Monon."

Announcement is made that the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy new line between Alliance, Neb., and Brush, Col., will be open to general traffic September 1. The line is 140 miles long and means much to the mining and commercial interests of Colorado and the Black Hills region of South Dakota.

The Rock Island has followed the example of the Union Pacific by placing a ban on cigarettes. Notice has been served on the employes of the company that those who are addicted to the use of cigarettes must give them up or lose their positions. In a new issue of blank applications the question is printed "Do you smoke cigarettes?" There is no objection to pipes or cigars.

Burleigh Currier, who holds a responsible position with the Penn Heat, Light and Power company, of Philadelphia, is combining pleasure and business for the company in a visit to this city, his old home. Mr. Currier left this city in February, 1897, for California, where he was for a time employed in the metre department of an electric works. In this work he was very successful and eighteen months ago, his abilities in that line coming to the attention of the company he now represents, he was offered a position with them at Philadelphia. He accepted and now has fine prospects for rapid advance in his line of work. Burleigh is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Currier, of West Berry street, with whom he is stopping during his stay in the city.

INSECT LODGED IN HIS EAR

S. A. STEIN HAS A VERY PAINFUL EXPERIENCE.

Bug Penetrated Deeply and Caused the Most Excrutiating Agony.

S. A. Stein, a wholesale liquor merchant on East Columbia street, had an experience Wednesday evening that was very much out of the ordinary, and it caused him the most intense agony.

While he was standing at the corner of Calhoun and Columbia streets shortly after 8 o'clock an insect of some description flew into Mr. Stein's right ear, penetrating so deeply that he was unable to remove it, and the movements of the bug produced paroxysms of severe pain which it was almost impossible to control. Mr. Stein hurried to the office of Dr. A. K. Hammond, but the insect had reached a position where no instrument could be used to remove it, and the physician injected medicines into the ear to kill the bug.

This gave the patient relief, though the ear was still numb this morning and he was unable to hear from it. Dr. Hammond believes the insect must have been a very small one, and that it lies back against the drum of the ear. It is hoped to remove it within a day or two, and it is thought the hearing will not be permanently affected.

BARBECUE GIVEN UP.

The gentlemen who have been arranging for several months to give a barbecue at Centlivre's park next month have decided to abandon the idea, on account of the Union Veteran Legion national encampment, which is to be held in the city next month, and the coming political campaign. It is thought that these two events will thoroughly engross public attention for the time, and it was decided not to hold the celebration. The gentlemen who had the event in charge expect to have a similar celebration on a much larger scale at one of the parks next year.

TO HOLD GOLF TOURNAMENT

MEMBERS OF GOLF CLUB TO COMPETE NEXT MONTH.

Contests Will be Held at Hamilton's Links and Prizes Are to be Given for Best Results.

The members of the recently organized Fort Wayne Golf club will hold their first tournament commencing Saturday afternoon at 2:30 on Hamilton's links north of the city, and the contest promises to be one of the social events of the season. About twenty members have thus far signified their intention of competing and the links present a scene of activity with enthusiastic golfers who are assiduously practicing each day in the hope of capturing one of the prizes offered by the president, Mr. Carnahan, and J. P. Fraser. The tournament will continue during the coming month, the contests taking place every Saturday afternoon. The links have been greatly improved and are in excellent condition for the matches, which are looked forward to with much eagerness by admirers of the game. Cards have been issued by the committee, which are intended for contestants upon which to keep score, and the rules governing the contest are printed on the cards. The latter, however, are intelligible only to the initiated. Some excellent prizes have been offered for the contest and the final awards will be made next month.

OFFICIAL TRIAL COMPLETE.

Lewes, Del., Aug. 30.—The battleship Alabama, which has just completed her official trial trip, arrived at the Delaware breakwater this morning on her way to Philadelphia, where she will soon be formally turned over to the government. The battleship made the run from Boston to the Delaware Capes in twenty-eight hours, maintaining an average speed of sixteen knots, which is her contract speed. From Nantucket Shoals lightship, in a run of fifteen and one-half hours, the ship averaged 16.28 knots, without being pushed or having special preparations made for the run. The average would probably have exceeded sixteen knots for the entire distance but for a two hours' experience with a fog.

DENIES CRENSHAW'S STORY.

San Francisco, Aug. 30.—Captain Girard, commanding officer of the general hospital, today declared groundless the accusations of Captain Crenshaw, who died at Atlanta after stating that he had received little treatment at the general hospital while suffering from a serious gun shot wound. Captain Girard said: "I am at a loss to understand why Captain Crenshaw should make such a statement. He had a female and male nurse in attendance all the time and received every attention possible. We ascertained that he was addicted to the use of morphine and because we would not permit him to use it, he may have considered it lack of treatment."

SWEDEN WANTS TO BORROW.

New York, Aug. 30.—Albert H. Wiggin, vice president of the National Park bank, said today that it was true that the bank had been approached by representatives of the Swedish government with inquiries as to the chance of placing a $10,000,000 loan in this country. Mr. Wiggin said he was not prepared to say yet whether the proposition had been favorably received.

BRINGS ALASKA GOLD.

Port Townsend, Aug. 30.—The steamer Topeka arrived from the north at 11 o'clock last night with 150 passengers and $100,000 in gold dust. Officers of the Topeka report the British steamer Cutch ashore on Horseshoe reef, in Stephen's passage, twenty-five miles from Juneau. At low tide the Cutch is high and dry and is badly damaged.

MR. WU GOES TO CAPE MAY.

Washington, Aug. 30.—Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister to this country, left at 10 o'clock this morning for Cape May, where his wife and son have been for some weeks. It is not known how long he will be absent from Washington.

IMPERIALS TO WIN.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—A special to the Record from Strasburg, Germany, says:

The Badische Presse, the leading newspaper of Carlsruhe, prints a rather sensational article on American imperialism, in which it says that even if Mr. Bryan, "storming the white house with the anti-imperialistic war cry," should be successful in his campaign and reach the presidency, it would be foolish for the world to think that the issue would be dead in the United States. Democrats in America are in reality as much imperialists as the republicans, and the tone of the music would be the only difference between them."

The paper compares the situation in the United States to that in England when the liberal party was thrown over because it resisted the imperialistic country. "America is young and strong," it concludes, "and, as is proper in the case of a progressive nation, really wants to participate in the world's council.

"The democrats themselves will finally want to do slowly just what Mr. McKinley is trying to do somewhat too fast for their ideas."
